

NEW SPY PROBE MYSTERY

Chinese Troops Open Desperate Counter-Attacks

Defenses Of Peiping And Tientsin Are Being Strengthened

NEGOTIATED PEACE RUMORS REVIVED

NANKING, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Chinese government troops were reported hurling desperate counter-attacks today against Communist forces threatening the isolated northern cities of Peiping and Tientsin.

Even as Nationalist forces struggled to lift the Red grip on the two government centers, mounting rumors of an impending negotiated peace between the Nationalist government and the Communists swept the capital.

Curtain Raisers
Government spokesmen in Tientsin and the new Nationalist assaults were the "curtain raisers" to an all-out military drive against the Reds. They claimed the Communists were driven from the Peiping suburban of Machuchiao, and sustained heavy losses.

An airfield near Peiping's legation quarter was said to be "operational" for government planes once again.

The reports of a possible termination of the bloody civil war were based on the installation of a new cabinet under Premier Sun Fo, who spoke on "an honorable peace."

40 Miles From Nanking
Red forces were stabbing 40 miles of the capital of Nanking. They were moving toward the Yangtze northwest of the major port of Shanghai. Other units were tightening a ring around Peiping and approaching Tientsin in the north.

Isolated Tientsin was being transformed into a fortress as sandbags were thrown about office.

Pa Newc Observes

Today is the first day of winter and also the shortest day of the year from the standpoint of day-light, according to the calendar.

State highway crews were called out at 5 a.m. today to cinder main roads about the county which had become quite icy due to a light thaw. Many of the roads were still treacherous early this morning. It was reported by Alfred Marzetta, county highway superintendent, that it was expected that as the day warmed up, most of the ice would disappear.

Record breaking crowds took advantage of the evening Christmas shopping period on Monday evening, with foot weary clerks glad for the approach of 9 o'clock when the stores were closed. Equally as large crowds will be found in the downtown district during the remaining three shopping evenings of this week.

With candles being used in many Christmas programs about the city, extreme caution should be used not to get the flame too near flammable clothing or decorations. Serious accidents could happen if extreme care is not taken. Christmas tree lights should also be checked for shorts.

Excavations for the new utility poles to hold the added white way light system between Croton avenue and County Line street on East Washington street have just about been completed by workmen. The additional light will make that section of the business district more attractive.

Mistake sales in downtown stores have been greatly spurred the past few days with both young and old alike seeking a little of the green sprigs to place about their homes. Perhaps the fact that only ten days of leap year remain, has something to do with the hurried purchases.

Testimonial Given Rev. Fr. McCarter

Upon behalf of St. Mary's parish, Edward A. Lynch (left) presented Rev. Francis M. McCarter a check for $30,000 Monday night at a testimonial dinner in the Cathedral. The check represents $1000 for each year Rev. McCarter has been in the priesthood. The money is to be used for work in the church.

Affection of a parish for its pastor came to full flower in the Cathedral Monday night, December 20.

Honoring the thirtieth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Fr. Francis M. McCarter as a priest of the church, St. Mary's parish tendered him a testimonial dinner that was the peak of the three-day celebration.

Classmates Attend
Flanking him at the speakers' table were fellow priests who 40 years ago entered St. Vincent's as youngsters.

Heading this group of illustrious class mates was the Most Rev. Michael J. Ready, Bishop of Columbus, O.

Out in front of the speakers' table was a sea of faces. The main dining room was filled from wall to wall, more tables were filled in the ballroom and in the west dining room.

This was a testimonial that combined verbal adulation and tangible expression of esteem. A check for $30,000 was given to Rev. McCarter for him to expend in the work of the church.

John J. Maher was the toastmaster of the evening. Rev. James F. Kernan, formerly of New Castle, delivered the invocation and the service of the dinner followed. Mr. Maher was introduced by Vincent.

Resume Plans For Hanging Of Jap War Leaders

Supreme Court's Refusal To Review Sentences Dooms Convicted Leaders

TOKYO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Allied officials resumed preparations today for the secret hangings of Japan seven top war leaders.

Col. Marion P. Echols, press chief for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said he "guessed" that "Pearl Harbor Premier" Hideki Tojo and his six fellow war criminals would not be hanged "on this calendar day."

Exact date of the executions was not expected to be set until MacArthur received official notification that the U. S. Supreme Court refused to intervene in any of the war crimes sentences handed down by an 11-nation tribunal.

This evening Echols said MacArthur's headquarters had been furnished with a "verbatim copy" of the supreme court decision that it lacked jurisdiction in the case.

Reports "Death Watch"
A reporters' "death watch" was resumed at occupation headquarters, with the press information office open 24 hours a day until after the hangings.

Sixteen other convicted Japanese warlords also lost hope of obtaining reversal or modifications of their sentences to life imprisonment.

Meanwhile, Sugamo prison's Buddhist chaplain, Nobukatsu Hanayama, went into the prison to console the doomed men. His family said they did not believe he would emerge until the death sentences were carried out.

Echols declined to speculate on whether the executions would be deferred until after Christmas week. He said he's "heard no talk" of such a postponement.

MAN INJURED WHILE TOWING AUTOMOBILE

Michael Dolinski, aged 31 years, of R. D. 3, New Castle, suffered a contusion of the left side of the chest, for which he was treated at the Jameson Memorial Hospital, Monday evening, at 6:45 o'clock.

The accident was a peculiar one. Mr. Dolinski was assisting in towing a disabled auto, near McConnell's Mills, when the towing chain let go, and struck him in the chest.

Tiny Suburb Of Berlin Is Taken Over By Russians

BERLIN, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Russian army troops carrying rifles and machine-guns today occupied the tiny Berlin suburb of Stolpe, whose residents voted 93 per cent against communism in the recent elections.

The village of 400 was handed over to the Russians two days ago by the French, who had occupied it under a special agreement since Oct., 1945.

The Soviets first move was to seal off the only road leading from the French sector of Berlin to inside the Russian occupation zone of Germany.

Two Dead; Eight Injured In Fires In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Two persons died today and eight others were injured in a series of fires in Philadelphia.

The fatalities occurred in a blaze that damaged the two top floors of the Westminster hotel in central Philadelphia.

Charles Nabe, 51, was found suffocated in his room. Mrs. Madeleine Drost, 75, was pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital, where physicians said she apparently died of a heart attack.

Twenty other guests fled the hotel in their night clothing.

Eight firemen were hurt—two of them seriously—in a three alarm blaze that swept the Lift Furniture Co., in Frankford.

At the height of the flames the roof collapsed, hurling flaming debris on a dozen firemen outside the building, and showering bricks on two men who were fighting the flames from a ladder outside the structure.

William McKnight, 55, a battalion chief, was among the injured. His chauffeur, Walter Gibson, 35, who was on the ladder with him, suffered multiple fractures and was reported in serious condition.

Six firemen managed to escape from the building after the roof crashed in. Four others were detained in hospitals for treatment, and two more were discharged after treatment.

In North Philadelphia, a fire engine responding to a local alarm collided with an automobile at an icy street intersection. The engine was damaged and withdrawn from service, but no one was reported injured.

New Record Set For Mail Monday At Post Office

Report 280,000 Pieces Of Outgoing Mail Handled During Day

All records for the volume of mail handled in a single day at the local post office were broken Monday. Postmaster William R. Hanna revealed today, the main post office and Mahoningtown sub-station handling 286,000 pieces of outgoing mail.

The previous record, set during last year's Christmas rush, was 207,000, which will give residents here some idea of the vast amount of business which the local office is doing this year.

Of out-going mail, virtually the same amount of incoming mail was handled.

Parcel Post Record
Parcel post business also set a record yesterday, approximately 10,000 packages of out-going mail being handled.

All this out-going mail was sorted and cancelled, and ready for distribution to the points for which it was intended at 2:30 o'clock this morning, out of the way for today's business, the postmaster stated.

If folks here don't get their mail, it will not be the fault of the regular carriers and the small army of substitutes who are working during the Christmas period, for they are doing yeoman service.

Magazines, circulars, calendars, and mail of this nature is being shunted aside at the present time to take care of the Christmas mail. (Continued on Page Two)

Public Square Carol Singing Again Tonight

Under the direction of Grift Thomas, the Welsh chorus sang a program of Christmas carols upon the public square Monday night. Mrs. John M. Hopkins was at the piano.

The program included both English and Welsh songs, although the crowd at the platform wanted more of the Welsh numbers than were sung. The program was a delightful one and was enjoyed over the downtown district.

It would be difficult to say which of the numbers was most enjoyed, but "Adeste Fideles" would probably be considered in that bracket by many.

Earl Hammond sang "O Holy Night" and David Lewis sang "The Birthday of the King."

Tonight at eight thirty the Ukrainian chorus will sing under the direction of Rev. Stephen Muschuk.

Dutch Marines Sweep Into Vital Java Oil Center

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Dutch marines swept into the vital Java oil center of Tjepoe today in a steamroller advance over apparently feeble Indonesian Republic resistance.

But the Republicans, in what was reportedly the first application of their threatened "scorched earth" resistance policy, were said to have set fire one of the largest oil wells of the area.

Meanwhile, Dutch mechanized brigades pushing ahead from Semarang were reported to have seized the provincial capital of Surakarta, in the center of Java.

The steady advance of Dutch forces was said to be well ahead of schedule. On the island of Sumatra, the fall of the Republican capital of Bukittinggi appeared imminent with Dutch troops only 40 miles away.

Word Of Caution As Winter Comes

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Boston Medical Examiner Timothy Leary had a first-day-of-winter word of caution today for those who are younger in heart than they are in years.

When it comes to shovelling snow, Dr. Leary said, middle-aged and elderly persons should "act their age" and leave the heavy work to younger people.

Marshall Plan Nations Want Billions In 1949

PARIS, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Marshall plan nations began putting finishing touches today to an economic survey which will call upon the United States for some four and a half billion dollars in aid next year.

The executive committee of the organization for European economic recovery will submit the survey for final approval to the full council of the organization next Tuesday.

Preliminary figures, according to OEEC sources, show that almost as much dollar help will be needed in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1949, as this year.

Some Asking More
Only France, Britain, the Anglo-

American zones of Germany, and Trieste, of the 18 recipients of American help, are asking less money for next year.

Greece, Turkey, Italy, Norway and Sweden are asking considerable increases. Portugal, which got no aid last year, is asking 45 million dollars. And the Netherlands, despite growing U. S. opposition to its far eastern policy, is asking for substantial boosts for both itself and its East Indian possessions.

The British, who got the largest single share of American aid last year—$1,236,000,000—have cut their request, but with $940,000,000 asked for next year, would still lead the other states.

Hear Defense In Span Case

Testimony As To Degree Of Guilt Is Still Being Presented At Court

Shortly after Lawrence county court opened this morning, District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson closed his case against John Span, Jr. The defense went on immediately.

Testimony is being taken by Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree to determine the degree of Span's guilt for the murder of his father, John Span, Sr., on September 19.

Hebilitated Drunk
Span was drunk a considerable portion of his time, according to his wife who testified. She said he was a reasonable person when he was sober but when he was drunk seemed to be insane. At times he threatened to kill her, she said. Mrs. Span had applied for a divorce before the murder. The action is still pending.

Span's sister, Mrs. Catherine Span Ellison, said the war had changed her brother. "Before the war I was close to him," she said, "he was a level headed, kind, considerate, understand person. Since the war he has changed and there seems to have been a wall built between us. I have never been able to get to the seat of his difficulties."

Character witnesses testified to Span's good character, more especially before the war. Span himself was expected to take the stand sometime late this afternoon.

Closing the commonwealth case, Mr. Donaldson called Dr. Richard A. Milo, Dr. Robert H. Israel and Dr. Otto Schaeffer, all psychiatrists. They all testified that Span was sane at the time they talked to him but would not say whether or not he was sane when he murdered his father.

Asserts Santa Gets Around Too Fast Sometimes

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Santa Claus gets around just too fast, sometimes—and the Boston City council is thinking of ways and means to anchor him in one place on Boston Common.

It all started when Council President Thomas J. Hannon took his five-year-old nephew to see Santa at a department store. The boy, eyes shining and heart throbbing, gave the man with the white whiskers a detailed account of just what he'd like for Christmas.

"Don't You Remember?"
Then Hannon walked with the youngster into another department store and lo! There was Santa again, to ask in a booming voice: "And what, my boy, do you want for Christmas?"

That was too much for a little fellow smart enough to have picked a ranking city official for an uncle.

"Don't you remember?" he snapped. "I told you that a couple of minutes ago!"

Which is why Council President Hannon thinks it might be well to ask Santa to stay put in one place.

Man Linked In Spy Probe Case Dies In Plunge

Lawrence Duggan Dies In Fall From 16th Floor Of New York Building

FORMERLY IN STATE DEPARTMENT POST (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Rep. Mundt (R) S. D., declared today that "Communist espionage conspirators" might be involved in the death of Lawrence Duggan, ex-State Department official.

Mundt, acting chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, asserted "there is more than a slight possibility of foul play" in Duggan's plunge last night from a New York office building.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Persons close to Laurence Duggan, former high state department official were closely questioned today by authorities seeking an explanation for his 16-floor plunge to death last night from a New York skyscraper.

One detective declared flatly that Duggan, linked in Washington to the Whitaker Chambers spy case, "decided to take the quick way out" when he fell or jumped from his own office window.

Pending further investigation, however, there was no official explanation of just what sent the 43-year-old diplomat hurtling to death

Is Inflation Slowed Down?

Washington Agrees Inflation Does Not Have As Much Wind In Sails

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL EVENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—A difference of opinion exists among government economists as to whether the postwar inflation, which has surged steadily forward for two and one-half years, is going upward or slowing down.

However, on the point all are agreed: The inflation does not have as much wind in its sails as it had.

Members of the Council of Economic Advisers lean mostly to the idea that inflation will move ahead. Since President Truman takes his cue from the council, he will again present his twice-rejected inflation program to congress, with price controls, rationing and other trimmings.

However, congress, with its strong tendency for prying into things, will sample the views of those who do not agree with the council. The upshot, therefore, is that it will be in no hurry to adopt the president's anti-inflation program, and very likely will reject the main proposals.

All this depends, of course, on the international situation. If it continues to stumble along, as it has been doing for months, then look for no anti-inflation legislation of consequence.

If it gets so much worse that defense and foreign aid spending lunge upward unexpectedly, then look for controls.

Defense and foreign aid spending are the leaven in the economic loaf now. If they stay close to where they are, inflation may not show much continued vigor. If they increase, inflation will swell deviously.

In this connection, it should be recalled that President Truman has placed, at least temporarily, a 15 billion dollar ceiling on defense spending in the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Out of the battle of words over the chief executive's "economy" defense budget, it is becoming increasingly clear that the 81st congress will disregard the recommendation and carry on expansion of at least the air force—to 70 groups.

Under the 15 billion dollar figure, the army, navy and air force would receive about five billions each. Under this set-up, the air force which has grown to 60 groups on its way to the 70-group goal, would have to be cut back to 50 groups.

However, the nation and the legislators have become too air power conscious, through the tremendous victories won by aviation in the last war, to accept the Truman program.

It is likely, therefore, that influential congressional leaders will desert President Truman on this issue and approve the seven billion dollar increase to air force expansion.

COAL

An odd feature of the economic picture seems to be that, with steel mills and heavy industry in general going full blast, bituminous coal is piling up in the bins.

Late reports from the bureau of mines shows 57 million tons of soft coal above ground. A number of small mines have been shut down, and larger concerns are concentrating on selling their output.

A few price cuts have been reported, but with stocks on hand, buyers just do not seem to be interested in getting more.

One main reason for the excess is the recovery of coal production in Europe. American exports in September, for instance, were only 1,101,257 tons, against 4,383,597 tons in September of 1947. The month is typical of the trend throughout this year.

LABOR

The prediction today on Capitol Hill is that the new Democratic-controlled congress will not repeal the Taft-Hartley act.

The consensus is that in view of President Truman's victory at the polls, congress probably will make a major revision in the law, but not favor outright repeal.

The president campaigned for outright repeal of the law enacted by the Republican-controlled 80th congress. The Democratic platform also carried a similar pledge.

Labor organizations which played a big part in the Democratic victory are expected to hold the administration to its promise. Expectations are among House and Senate members, however, that a compromise will be worked out.

King Humbert

King Humbert auxiliary met in the hall on December 19 for the annual party and program of entertainment. The hall was appropriately decorated with the Christmas trimmings of red and green. Serving as mistresses of ceremonies were Mrs. Fred Scungio and Mrs. Elizabeth Cepro. Angelina Stella served as Santa Claus during the evening.

In the program which followed, several took part in the presentations. Teresa Santa was heard in a vocal solo and Agnes Cipri in a piano selection. Veronica Russo gave a boston twirling exhibition with fire. A solo number was presented by James Exposito and a special vocal selection by Jean Exposito, who sang "Silent Night" and "Santo." A dance number by Domenick Paloner, Jr., pleased the group.

Concluding the program, a fine lunch was served by Rose Lamorella, Elizabeth Zuberle, R. Passarella, Mary Rose, P. Passarella, Elizabeth Cepro, Rose Rozzi, C. DeAngelis, Helen Ottaviano, P. Pagliero, L. Paganis, A. Sabelli, Adeline Volpe, R. Rich and Mary Piccarri.

Dancing was enjoyed by the entire group until a late hour.

The Bering Strait is named after the Russian navigator who discovered it in 1781.

Discover 'Genuine' Stradivarius Violin

Retired Greek Policeman Will Use Proceeds From Sale Of Violin For Comfort

ATHENS.—(INS)—A violin believed to be a genuine two-centuries old Stradivarius has been discovered in the town of Agrinion.

Demeter Pengas, 65-year-old violinist and retired policeman in straitened circumstances, is the owner of the instrument. He claims it as a family heirloom.

If its authenticity is established and old Demeter is willing to part with it against badly needed cash, the proceeds would enable him to spend the rest of his life in undreamed-of comfort.

Agrinion's artistic circles are all a-flutter with excitement since they have been told of the presence of the instrument.

Think It Is 'Genuine'

The town's musicians who have seen it are utterly convinced it is genuine. They have invited their learned Athenian colleagues to "come and see for yourselves."

The experts base their conviction on the following facts: Inside the shell of the violin can be seen the great master's signature, place and date of manufacture—1722.

The worn out aspect of the instrument testifies to its venerable age. Unlike contemporary violins which have ebony necks, Agrinion's wonder-violin has a plain wooden neck.

The most striking feature about it, however, is its tone, described by auditors as "the most divinely melodious ever heard."

Cleveland Firm To Probe Donora Gases

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 21.—(INS)—The Kettering Laboratory of Applied Physiology was engaged today to investigate the recent smog deaths in Donora, Pa.

The American Steel and Wire Co., which operates a steel and wire manufacturing and a zinc works at Donora, said the Kettering Laboratory of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine has been retained to study the circumstances surrounding the smog deaths of 19 elderly persons in Donora.

The work of the laboratory is concerned chiefly with occupational hazards and diseases, their nature and significance, and the means of preventing them.

so if your favorite magazine is delayed a day or two, blame yourself. You were warned that there was going to be a tremendous Christmas rush this year, and you were asked by post office officials to mail a little early, so you wouldn't get caught in the jam.

However, Postmaster William R. Hanna sounded a word of encouragement. All mail which is in the local office by noon on Friday for local distribution will be delivered that day. If you could see the huge baskets full of mail, which the regular employees are casing, each basket containing around 18,000 letters, you might doubt this statement, but it will be accomplished because these faithful folks have been through this before.

the Russian Berlin kommandatura. It was not ascertained whether he was placed under arrest.

Without Incident

French officials said the Russian occupation began early today and ended about 10 a. m. without incident.

The transfer of the village raised a storm of protest in west Berlin newspapers, which charged that the villagers had become "victims of the cold war."

No official reason was given by the French for their evacuation of Stolpe. But it was believed that the move was prompted through fears that the Soviets planned retaliation last Thursday of two Russian radio towers.

Most historians claim that the bell is the oldest musical instrument. Bronze bells have been found in Assyrian excavations and in mummy cases in Egypt that are centuries old.

Duggan, father of four children, was a one-time adviser to Secretary of State Cordell Hull on Latin-American affairs. When he died, he was the $15,000-a-year president of the Institute of International Education.

The organization is affiliated with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace of which Alger Hiss, named as a spy courier by Chambers, is president-on-leave.

Had Been Mentioned

Shortly after word of Duggan's death was received in Washington, Acting Chairman Karl Mundt (R., S. D.) of the House Un-American Activities Committee disclosed that former state department employee had been mentioned in secret testimony before the congressional group.

Mundt said that Isaac Don Levine, anti-Communist editor, had named Duggan as one of six men who Whitaker Chambers cited as a source of information in 1938 and 1939, when vital state department papers were stolen for transmission to Russia.

Duggan's body struck a pile of snow near the building's entrance. He was rushed to Roosevelt Hospital but was dead on arrival.

The victim, son of Dr. Stephen Duggan, political scientist and former director of the Institute for International Education, graduated from Harvard University in 1927, and Phillips Exeter Academy, one of the East's most exclusive boys' schools.

CHINESE TROOPS OPEN DESPERATE COUNTER-ATTACKS

buildings and barricades were erected with machine guns bristling. The government garrison was preparing for a street-by-street defense of North China's second city.

Confronted with an approaching climax in China's internal struggle, Premier Sun Fo, announced the organization of a cabinet including some outstanding Nationalist leaders.

No "Outright Surrender"

The new premier, whose father was the Reverend Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese republic, declared the government's battered and depleted army would make no "outright" surrender to the Communists.

(In Shanghai, this was interpreted as a hint that President Chiang Kai-shek's Nanking regime had been persuaded to modify its attitude of opposing any negotiated peace. Observers expected peace talks to begin shortly.)

Rockview Fugitive Changes His Mind

BELLEVILLE, Pa., Dec. 21.—(INS)—A prisoner, wet and nearly frozen, changed his mind today in an attempted escape from Rockview State Penitentiary at Belleville.

Deputy Warden C. C. Rhodes said the prisoner, Robert E. Muldrew, 33, gave himself up at 9:15 this morning, an hour after he walked away from his work in the prison farm fields.

Wet from the waist down after wading a creek, Muldrew surrendered to a guard, explaining through chattering teeth:

"Any man who would try to escape from this place is crazy."

He told Rhodes that he had never left the prison grounds and had given himself up because he was "all in."

Muldrew, a native of West Virginia, was sentenced in Philadelphia last year to serve three to ten years for robbery. His minimum term would have ended in August, 1950, according to Rhodes.

It has been determined that the finest and most delicate use which we make of our muscles is in the process of speaking.

Remember the Sabbath

It is too bad that the merchants of the country are so greedy 'to do business that they take up pretty nearly all of the Sabbath Day to advertise their wares.

It is nearly impossible any more, this time of year especially, to get a sacred program over the air on the Sabbath Day.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Vienna, which poverty and war disaster never have been able to effect as a focal point of world diplomacy, may provide a key to unlock the stalemate that for months has hampered normal relations among the big four nations of the world.

The disclosure that Soviet Russia has agreed to resumption of four-power negotiations for a final Austrian peace treaty has opened a wide field of possibility.

It is difficult indeed to separate German-speaking Austria entirely from Germany itself. Many of the interests of the two countries are closely related, despite the highly definite manner in which modern Austria has repudiated the "Anschluss" or forcible annexation that Adolf Hitler thrust upon it in 1938.

Russia Last To Join
Russia was the last of the four powers to signify willingness to renew negotiations, which had been earnestly requested. The United States, Great Britain and France were quick to recognize legality of the demand.

The outlook at the moment is entirely promising. A four-sided agreement on Austria certainly would prove the ability of the allies to re-create that atmosphere of cordiality and goodwill which contributed so tremendously to victory over nazism and fascism in the second world war.

The case of Austria is especially important because of that country's very special position in the post-war world.

Immediately after the conflict ended, the allies took a step that had absolutely no precedent in history. Despite the fact that Austrian soldiers fought with the nazis, the allies gave the nation as a whole a completely clean bill of health.

Under Compulsion
They ruled that Austria became part of Hitler's Reich only under compulsion. Austria therefore was not branded as an enemy of the world.

Austria has asked that the renewed negotiations proceed with the ultimate object of restoring her full sovereignty as an independent nation.

This, of course, would involve withdrawal of occupational forces. Therefore Austria has made the corollary suggestion that she be permitted to maintain a token army of 50,000 men.

The ostensible object would be the preservation of law and order in a nation where a certain amount of soldierly discipline is as indispensable as Strauss waltzes, strolls in the Vienna woods and good coffee, regardless of the cost.

Singularly Fortunate
The western nations, and now presumably Russia as well, will recognize that post-war Austria has been singularly fortunate in its choice of leadership and the persistence of a government that has kept the country miraculously free of strikes and unrest despite their popularity elsewhere.

They have high regard for the political sagacity of President Dr. Karl Renner, for the administrative abilities of mountain-climbing

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Space being what it is, I could not tell you yesterday what I wanted to about that church supper in Redding.

This being the holiday season when our thoughts often go beyond the giving and receiving of presents and upon the real meaning of Christmas, let me talk just a little more about that "practical religion" I mentioned in yesterday's column.

That little church in Redding, Conn., seems to give the answer to the often-asked question, "What is the matter with religion?"

There was a whole lot of the matter with religion in Redding, Conn. And Redding is a typical American small town.

They had a Federated Church there for a good many years, consisting of the Methodists and the Congregationalists of the community.

But the church and its congregation disintegrated until no more than four or five people attended the Sunday services, and the Sunday school attendance had all but disappeared.

The church basement was a mass of rubble, and the whole thing was somewhat a disgrace.

Finally there was no longer a minister to preach or teach the children, and instead of a living church it had become a weed-covered eye and soul sore.

Then a few of the parishioners got together one day and decided to put an end to all this ineffectiveness and decay.

Their first religion. They needed religion. Committees were formed. Money was raised. The basement was cleaned out and painted and refurbished—not by hired carpenters and painters, but by the men and women of the community.

Then a young minister was persuaded to take over the church. He is an enthusiastic chap in his early thirties. He was born in China, the son of a Presbyterian Missionary, and religion to him is life itself.

Now let us skip a year. Today the Federated Church of Redding has a faithful congregation of almost 100. The Sunday school is regularly attended by 40 children.

The basement is being enlarged and finished and will soon be the where citizens of all faiths will come together to be Americans.

A couple of Sundays ago during service, the fire bell rang its terrifying sound. The minister was in the midst of his sermon. But he is also a member of the Redding Volunteer Fire Department and the fire truck is kept in his barn.

He called the men members to come with him and they rushed out to the fire. His young wife kept the remainder of the congregation busy with announcements, reading of the scriptures and singing.

After a while the men came back. The fire was out. The minister, dirty, disheveled, tired, mounted his pulpit and finished the service.

There were tears in the eyes of many of the women in that church—tears of thanks, I think, that religion can be part of life.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

The next few days you will be reading a lot about the big celebration that will take place on the 27th of December . . . The citizens of New Castle will pay tribute to the winning football team and the champion cross country team of the local high school . . . Entertainment and dancing . . . Cathedral . . . Very nice gifts have been purchased for the members of each team . . . Watches to be exact . . . There will be no long speeches but fun will run high. Tickets are on sale around town at well known places . . . read the story on the Sports page.

Today we celebrate our 11th wedding anniversary . . . a long time . . . the past 11 years have been rather exciting . . . War and three children. During that time a man should be wise . . . that is a question that we won't discuss right now . . . however we have determined several things:

We have decided on a definition . . . a cultured woman is one who always takes the spoon out of the cup before she throws it at her husband . . . and my "little woman" qualifies for the following . . . The woman who can cook three meals a day, seven days a week, and vary them sufficiently to avoid monotony, is entitled to a diploma as master of domestic arts, even if her whole academic course has been pursued in the kitchen . . . and she is one luxury not subject to taxation.

Of course a day like today always reminds us of churches, preachers, etc. And of course that brings to mind a little incident that took place in a local church not so very long ago . . . The preacher was making weekly announcements before his sermon Sunday morning . . . he went down over a long list of going-ons . . . finally he said: "Brethren, the janitor and I will hold our regular prayer meeting next Wednesday as usual."

Enough of that small talk . . . it's time we do some thinking about a little gift before we go home for dinner . . . you who have been married longer know that is a "must".

Washington Calling

Dutch Guns Silence Debate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The reality behind the black headlines is so hard for us here in the United States to conjure up. It is Christmas here in America. Across the expanse of snow-covered lawn the fir trees are masked in snow. Java is a long way off. Jogjakarta is an impossible name.

White men are at war with brown men in the steaming jungle. That is the significance of the Dutch attack on the Indonesia Republic for Western Europe and North America—the two little islands of white people in a vast sea of color.

The guns of the Dutch have silenced a debate that has been going on since the end of World War II. They may have ended for a long time the hope of a peaceful conclusion of that debate.

From across the far Pacific you can hear those voices. The Dutchman is the efficient manager and exploiter of Indonesia's rich resources. He built up the profitable structure of processing and trade that existed before the war. He speaks with clear, calm precision, trying to keep out of his voice his irritation with those who do not understand the problem.

Speaks With Intensity
The native speaks with quiet intensity. He believes in his heart that he speaks for all the dispossessed and exploited millions of Asia. He is convinced that his is the voice of the future, of freedom and independence.

The Dutchman: The fact remains that your so-called government cannot control the irregulars and the guerrillas whose threats and depredations prevent any order in the territory over which the republic assumes jurisdiction. The leaders of these irregulars are, in effect, war lords. We have waited many months through long drawn-out negotiations for some indication that the Republic could establish an orderly government.

Merely A Device
The native: Your federation is merely a device whereby you can continue the kind of colonial exploitation that enriched The Netherlands before the war. Our toil, our sweat, our resources supplied nearly half of the wealth of Holland and made it possible for you to maintain a high standard of living.

The Dutchman: To begin with, your figures are quite wrong. The contribution of the Indies to our economy was at the most 15 per cent. In Borneo, the Celebes and, in fact, two-thirds of Indonesia, the people are willing to accept federation. You threaten their peace as well as the peace of the world.

The native: Even if all that you said were true, which it is not, you cannot conquer us by force. We are millions and you are a few.

The Dutchman: Without us you will lapse into anarchy and barbarism. The trading structure we have built up will collapse. The police action we are taking is more essential for you than it is for us.

Guns Roar
So the guns roar and the bombs begin to fall. During all the bitter debate, the United States has tried to intervene. But the effort, it seems to me, has been too tentative, too timid, without constructive and positive purpose. This is the more tragic in view of our strong moral position in Asia against the background of having worked with the Filipinos toward their independence.

Our policy has been to restore Holland to strength and prosperity in Europe while preventing the kind of war which has now broken out. Perhaps that was an impossible goal. And in spite of our good intentions, we may end with the ill will of both sides in this momentous struggle.

Hints On Etiquette

The general rule about replying to written invitations is that the answer should be in the mood, made, and general form of the invitation.

BIBLE THOUGHT

So that we may boldly say, "The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me."

—Hebrews 13:6.

The 143-year-old jailhouse on Nantucket Island, Mass., is being restored by the local historical association. In cutting through the rotted portion of heavy oak beams, it was found that walls, floor and ceiling of the small building were laced with a framework of 5,817 pounds of iron rods and straps.

Stove Designs Get Attention

By PAUL GALICCO

Mesdames and sirs! Leave us have no more snide sneers at the powers of the press and the Voice of the People.

Through the medium of this noble and selfless pillar you have voiced your displeasure with the design and efficiency of the modern motor car, or rather the latest model.

I have given expression to the rage in your hearts as you have tried to adapt the current style of heap to the exigencies of present-day traffic conditions and the frustrations bedeviling you as, sunk low behind the wheel and gazing out across acres of utterly useless tin, you try to see where in a flick you are going and what the obstacles in your path are.

Were these but idle words sown upon the winds? No, citizen-brothers. When the people speak, monarchs and emperors tremble. Before me are not one, but two screeds from presidents of motor car companies written on expensive palace papirus, signed and sealed with their own hands, assuring me that your wishes and desires have found a haven and that the forthcoming motor car shall be as you decree. Merry Christmas from them to you.

Aware Of Needs
Says Mr. James D. Mooney, president of the—since I am not permitted the use of trade names—Such-and-Such Motors, Inc., of Toledo, Ohio: "Your perfectly natural desire to see where you are going when driving a car is shared by many thousands of motorists as attested by the complaints reported by the Automobile Club of New York against cars that are difficult to drive and park and are costly to garage and repair."

"We at Such-and-Such have been keenly aware of the motorist's needs along these lines since the inception of our postwar line of passenger cars. We have designed and built our cars accordingly, so that your appeal to the designers in Detroit has already been answered here in Toledo . . . We are building a car that you can enter and leave comfortably. It has a short hood, packed full of economical engine. You can see an object on the road eight feet in front of the Station Sedan, against the 18 foot or more of road blackout of ordinary postwar cars; it is ten per cent shorter than other postwar cars for ease of parking; it can turn around completely in a 36-foot street; it has a turning radius 14 per cent shorter than the smallest of other standard sized cars, etc., etc."

And from Mr. K. T. Keller, president of the Blank Corporation, Detroit 31, Michigan: "If you are going to be in Detroit in the near future, I should very much like to show you our engineering samples of the new models which we are going to bring out next March, for I believe you will find the kind of car you want."

So there you are. Whatever the car of the future will look like, the boys are bending an ear to your complaints and needling their designers to cut out the monkeyshines and produce something that will take some of the jitters and nerve strain out of operating a motor vehicle.

Stoves Next Grievance
Thus encouraged and emboldened, I am led on to our next grievance—stoves. While this is in no way connected with motor cars it is still on the subject of dissatisfaction with design.

Therefore, hear ye, hear ye, presidents of concerns who manufacture gas ranges. I am in receipt of a "passel" of letters from irate housewives hollering their heads off about the cockeyed design of your stoves and demanding that I do something about it.

They say that the broiler and the roaster are set way down at the bottom of the gadget instead of handy up near the top where a girl can get at it without tying a double S knot in her spinal column every time she wants to take a look at how the evening repast is doing. I time she wants to take a look at how the evening repast is doing. I am the housewife's friend, and so I am saying to you—what about it?

I say to you that Maw has to bust her back enough times around the house during the day, making beds and cleaning under the bureau without the additional strain on her vertebrae of peering down into an oven built two inches off the floor to see how the old man's dinner is coming along.

Will you take care of that, please? Thank you, boys.

They Say

NEW YORK—Francis B. Sayre, American U. N. delegate: "I had explicit confidence in Mr. Hiss. I never heard any charges of communist affiliations where he was concerned."

JAIPUR, India—Pandit Nehru Indian premier: "We have pledged to end alien domination of Asia. Though we cannot give the Indonesian republic effective aid, we cannot remain idle spectators."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Brewster (R) Me.: "Sen. Vandenberg's prestige as senate president should be continued."

PARIS—Gen. Charles DeGaulle: "It is not our fault if the Ruhr problem exists. But it would be our fault if we permit that the Ruhr remains within the framework of German dynamism."

Just what this intrusion into the peace of the average householder may mean is best judged by the householder himself. Juke music in the lunch room, juke music in the after-work bar, usually surfeits his requirements. To wander home worn and weary at evening and find junior jockeying the discs may prove too much. It may be no worse than much of the radio output, in truth; but the radio can be tuned out, whereas junior cannot. With all regard to American genius, we cannot help a feeling that this is one more blow at American domesticity.

S UPON A TIME

ONE OF THE really "funny" men in radio is Peter Donald, who is gagmaster of the Can You Top This program. Donald was born in Bristol, England, and grew up in the show business, his father being a Scottish comedian, his mother a singer. Peter made his debut in England when he was four, came to America when he was nine. While in school he was a model for magazine and newspaper advertisements. Peter started in radio in 1931 in straight roles. A radio official discovered Peter's talent for comedy, now he's in his eighth year with Can You Top This.

Disavow Reports Of Overproduction In Soft Coal Mines

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. A. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The soft coal industry, jittery over prospects that the new year may bring some kind of action from John L. Lewis, is busy today disavowing reports of overproduction of its product.

It has been six months since the industry last grappled with the United Mine Workers president—a half year of efficient, uninterrupted output of bituminous coal.

The national stockpile of coal above ground totals approximately 70 million tons—an estimated 45 days supply and a postwar record.

Motivates Speculation
And it is this huge stockpile of coal that is motivating speculation that Lewis may bestir himself. The thought is that the UMW chief doesn't like big stockpiles; they handicap him in dealing with the mine owners.

So there has been a fair amount of speculation recently that Lewis may take some action early in the new year to reduce the stockpile in order to be in a more favorable bargaining position for 1949 contract negotiations.

The UMW president hasn't said a word, at least publicly. He hasn't indicated when negotiations on a new soft coal wage agreement will start. But the operators are taking cognizance nonetheless of recent rumors.

GETS LONG SENTENCE

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Sewell W. Rouzer Jr., 39, of Bedford, today is under sentence of 12-to-26 years in Western Penitentiary after pleading guilty to four charges of larceny, burglary, receiving stolen goods and prison breach in Hollidaysburg.

Rouzer was one of four Blair county jail inmates who escaped November 20. He was recaptured three days later at East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Elwood C. Burger, 20, of Altoona, and Robert E. Maloney, 24, of Morris Run, were captured at Lubbock, Tex., December 12.

Still at large is Robert E. Lot, 24, of Altoona.

Almira Home Has Small Fire Today

Five fire companies were summoned to the Almira Home at 8:30 o'clock this morning by an alarm from Box 411, which is located in the home, when an electric cable in the elevator shaft caught fire. Damage of around $10 was caused, Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink stated.

Fortunately the fire occurred at a time, when prompt discovery was possible, and the firemen were at the scene promptly, keeping the loss at a minimum. There was little confusion among the ladies residing at the home, it was stated.

Additional fire companies always answer alarms from the hospitals and institutions, just as a precaution, tion, which accounted for the number answering this alarm this morning.

Many birds can imitate various sounds, such as whistles; a few other birds, such as the crow and the mynah of India, can imitate voice sounds.

Live fish have been found in mountain lakes above the line of perpetual snow.

Sampson Street Program Tonight

form of a watch night service on Friday evening, December 31.

Twenty War Brides And Families Land In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21. — (INS)—Twenty war brides with their husbands and children were put up temporarily today in a Philadelphia hotel after arriving on an overseas plane originally scheduled to land at New York.

The detour represented another in a series of delays that have plagued them since they began the trip, but they were jubilant that they beat the December 28 deadline for making the trip at Uncle Sam's expense.

Cpl. Nathan Radd, 21, and his bride of three months, Ernestine, who were among the arrivals, said about 400 other couples were in Munich awaiting transportation.

Again this year First Methodist church will hold a beautiful Christmas eve candle light service. The service will begin at 11:30 p.m. and will usher in the Christmas Day. The beautifully decorated sanctuary of First Methodist church has attracted considerable attention. These decorations were planned by Lew Cartwright, and show his great artistic ability. The service on Christmas eve will be a service of carols, Scripture reading and candles.

Plan To Broaden Espionage Probe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. — (INS)—House spy probes may recommend to the new Congress that the espionage investigation be broadened to include Communist activities in religion, education and labor.

The recommendation would be embodied in a year-end report now being drawn up by the House Un-American Activities committee as it prepared to wind up its Communist espionage probe.

This was revealed today by Rep. Mundt (R) S.D., acting committee chairman, who disclosed also that the House group will urge adoption of a new set of procedures designed to protect witnesses and prevent unjust accusations against innocent people.

The western nations in particular admire the way in which Austria, despite hardships, has kept its skirts clean of communism.

Latest word from Moscow on the Carinthian claims of Yugoslavia indicate a softening of the Russian attitude, perhaps because of Marshal Tito's break with the communists.

Official Kremlin circles have been quoted as saying it is a mistake to assume that Russia backs Tito's claims; all the Kremlin wants is that the claims should be discussed.

How soon the negotiations will be resumed is problematical and their success right now is more of a hope than a reality. But the signs are hopeful and it is not impossible that some ship of over-all European peace may be launched upon the Danube.

Japan Has New Labor Crisis

TOKYO, Dec. 21. — (INS)—Japan headed into a new labor crisis today.

Several Japanese unions prepared to launch strikes in defiance of Allied warnings that walk-outs in private industry may shortly be prohibited.

The executive committee of the Federation of Private Railway Workers' Unions was the latest to act.

Vote To Strike

It voted, 13 to 1, to stage a staggered two-day strike beginning tomorrow. The federation represents 112,000 workers on railways not operated by the Japanese government.

The vote was taken within an hour after Gen. Douglas MacArthur's labor division chief, Chester W. Hepler, appealed to Japan's organized labor to forego strikes as a "patriotic duty." Hepler made it clear that if his appeal goes unheeded, the occupation authorities will forbid all strikes as part of the American-devised stabilization program for Japan.

Red Cross Official Discusses Problems Of New Blood Bank

Announces Plans To Start Typing
And Classifying Blood Of Prospective Donors

In a meeting with Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter officials and the Blood Donor Program Committee Monday afternoon, L. Howard Lukehart, general field representative of the Eastern area, National Red Cross, discussed procedures followed by other centers in conforming with the highest medical and technical standards in launching and carrying out the program. It was pointed out that all centers are under the direct supervision of qualified physicians, nurses and laboratory technicians.

The local blood donor program is designed to furnish whole blood to the entire county at no cost, except for the customary laboratory charge by the hospital.

Can Have Blood Typed

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery announced that Miss Kathleen C. Angellio, who was recently appointed as technician in charge of the local blood donor program, will be available immediately at the Red Cross headquarters at 39 North Beaver street, so that donors may call and have their blood typed and classified. Donors may stop at the headquarters between the hours of ten and twelve in the morning and three to five in the afternoon, from Monday through Friday. Each donor's blood type will be noted and when the actual collection of blood begins after the first of the year, the donor will be notified to report at a time convenient to them.

Community Responsibility

Dr. Flannery stated that this is a community responsibility, since the blood collected will be used in this county, and every healthy American between the ages of 18 and 60 should consider it a privilege to donate their blood to save the lives of fellow local citizens. It is a simple and harmless procedure, and the typing of a donor's blood is also extremely valuable in case the donor himself needs emergency transfusions, so that precious minutes will not have to be wasted in typing or finding suitable donors.

Attending the conference were: S. Glenn McCracken, Chapter chairman; Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, chairman, blood donor program; Dr. William Goodpastor, medical advisory committee; L. J. Lewis, public information chairman; and Mrs. Louise McConnell, executive director, Lawrence County Red Cross Chapter.

England at one time enforced a law forbidding automobiles to speed at more than four miles an hour and requiring that a man precede every power-driven vehicle waving a red flag.

Optimists' Workshop Rivals Santa Claus

Local Group Repairing And Painting Toys For 300 Underprivileged Children

Movie producers could get a modern, realistic view of what an up-to-date Santa Claus workshop really is by visiting at the home of Joey Yachabach on Cameron avenue any night this week.

Joey is chairman of the Optimist club committee to repair and repaint toys for underprivileged children of the community. Shortly after 7 o'clock each evening, the committee, consisting of Dale Clobus, Ted Love, Rocco Vigiano, Carl Salsburg, Harold Boak, and Yachabach get out their tools in the well-equipped shop and sand and paint children's furniture, or put new handle bars on a tricycle. All of the work is destined to make some child happy at Christmas time, and the men work with a smile on their face as if anticipating that Christmas morning glie of an underprivileged boy or girl.

To Provide For 200

The Optimists only regret is that they are only going to be able to satisfy about 200 children this year. They realize now that they started too late this season on a project that has so many possibilities of bringing joy and happiness to those who would normally be overlooked by Santa. However, the group is already planning on a longer, more thorough, renovating program next year.

The Optimists are very grateful to the Sherwin-Williams company who have picked up the toys to be repaired, furnished the paint, some of the labor and much of the expense involved for parts. The paint company also plans to deliver the toys throughout the city before Christmas morning.

Welfare agencies throughout New Castle have supplied the names of those families that will not normally be having toys for Christmas. The good citizens of New Castle have supplied the broken toys.

The Optimists and Sherwin-Williams have supplied the initiative and ingenuity. Best of all, the lucky recipients of the gifts will supply the happiness that will be ample reward for all of those involved in the program.

The best known and most plentiful of all American water fowl is the Greenhead mallard duck.

So-o Good

Crunchy - crusted, downy-light centered crullers and doughnuts, oven-fresh, here everyday! Perfect in-between bites for the little ones. Wholesome in their pure goodness, too! Just the goody for packing in school lunches and for big-folks' pantry raids.

Bargain Offer Would 'Knock' Your Eye Out

ST. LOUIS, (INS)—The movement for "truth in advertising" began among St. Louis advertising men about 1906, according to George A. Volz, vice-president of a St. Louis advertising firm.

Volz said that before then, "flamboyant claims were the rule, and the more flamboyant the better."

He cited the "eye water" case which swindled many St. Louisans.

In the 1880's several local firms did a good business making and selling "eye waters." These were mild solutions designed to relieve travelers of the eye inflammation caused by travel through "dusty buffalo grass and prairies."

An advertisement in a St. Louis newspaper read:

"We will tell you how to make your own eye water. Forward one dollar for simple instructions."

Those who sent in their dollar for the "bargain offer" got back a plain card which read:

"Stick your finger in it."

The oldest covered bridge in existence is thought to be at Lucerne, Switzerland, built in 1333.

Small rubies are sold for watch jewels, embroidery or "constructed" rubies.

Two Programs At New Wilmington Wednesday Night

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 21.—Two Christmas programs are planned for Wednesday evening. There will be carol singing by the junior department at the Neshannock Presbyterian church. An exchange of gifts will take place with Santa Claus taking an active part.

The regular U.P. church party will be held the same evening with recitations by Judy Ann McCandless, Margaret McLaughry, Wallace Brown, Betsy and Marylou Mansell and Sally Haymond. Mrs. W. J. H. McKnight will give a reading, "The Littlest Angel."

"How Far Is the Way to Bethlehem" is the title of a pageant to be presented in the Methodist church, Sunday evening, Dec. 26.

The moccasin snake, water moccasin or cottonmouth, is an aquatic, fish-eating, venomous snake. Its habitat is from southern Indiana and southeastern Virginia to the Rio Grande. It lives in swamps, marshes, on overgrown land, along rivers and bayous, and never goes far away from such places.

Legend Behind Christmas Holly

KENT, O.—How did holly become a Christmas symbol? Urban L. Throm, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., has traced many legends. He says holly long has been associated with Christ. He says holly's leaves and spikes came to suggest the crown of thorns and the red berries the blood He shed for mankind.

Throm explained: "Early Gypsies believed that Christ was born in a field and that holly, ivy and pine hid Him and that they were rewarded by being evergreen. But the ash and the oak revealed where Christ was hiding, so they were punished and must forever remain dead all winter."

Travels 2,000 Miles
To Calm Conscience

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., (INS)—There's an old saying that "an honest confession is good for the soul". Apparently there's one man in the country who's willing to travel 2,000 miles to prove it.

The man—who wouldn't give his name—walked into the office of the Frisco Railroad's General Manager S. J. Frazier in Springfield recently.

He plunked down $135 in bills, announced he wanted to pay for some materials he'd stolen from the railroad several years back, and then disappeared as unceremoniously as he arrived.

He told Frazier the theft had been on his conscience ever since it was committed. He said the $135 would more than pay for the materials—even at inflated prices. Moreover, he said he'd traveled 2,000 miles to make restitution because he had a feeling that a personal confession would be helpful to his conscience.

One Thousand

School Vacation
Begins Today With Early Dismissal

It's all over until "next year" for the school children of New Castle today at 2:30.

Holiday programs, Christmas parties and gifts for the teacher have been part of the standard curriculum for the two days of school this week and this afternoon, amid joyous greetings of "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year," the children will file jubilantly home thinking of the arrival of Santa Claus and other holiday festivities.

Furthest from their minds will be the reconvening of school Monday morning, January 3, 1949.

Jean Ingelow, English poet and novelist, was born in Boston, Lincolnshire, and published her first volume of verses anonymously in 1850.

POLICE COURTROOM
Decorated Today

Police Chief Secretary Caroline Black, aided by several policemen today decorated the police courtroom in Christmas holiday attire.

Large plaster casts of Santa Claus were suspended on the walls, wreaths were hung and vari-colored streamers were placed. In addition a Christmas tree, clothed with vari-colored electric bulbs, tinsel and bright ornaments, was erected. The decorations add cheer to the courtroom.

Bus Extensions
Discussed Today

Shenango Valley Bus company officials and members of council met in the mayor's private office this morning to discuss the city's proposal that the bus company extend service to several points not now served by the company. Two of the points are Sampson street and a route from the South Side to East Side.

Past Noble Grands

Election resulted as follows:

president, Mrs. Lillian Sumner; vice president, Mrs. Sadie Smith; secretary, Mrs. Ann Hawk; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Brooks.

Cards and games were in play later with prizes going to Mrs. Charlotte Conley, Mrs. Irene Emerick, Mrs. Ann Hawk, and Mrs. Charlotte Phillips. A lunch was served at tables prettily decorated in the Christmas theme.

Next meeting will be January 10, the anniversary dinner in the I. O. O. F. hall.

Several Injured
As Trains Collide

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Between 10 and 15 persons were reported injured today when an Erie Railroad train, loaded with New York-bound commuters, collided with an empty passenger train backing out of the Jersey City terminal.

Two persons were taken to St.

Francis hospital in Jersey City. They are: Gideon L. Morgan, 60, Suffern, N. Y., conductor on the commuter train, and Mrs. Lillian Bateman, 35, Glen Rock, N. J.

Morgan was said to have possible fractures, and Mrs. Bateman suffered head injuries.

Wheeling Pastors Protest Gambling

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Wheeling ministers were all set to swing into vocal action tonight when a delayed gambling ordinance comes before city council for adoption.

They are protesting the ordinance which legalizes a dice game—26—and is so broad that almost any gambling game or device can be licensed.

Mayor Carl B. Bachmann, who previously attempted to have the ordinance passed by suspension of rules, has been swamped with resolutions against the proposal. Most of the opposition has been from civic groups.

Supposedly, promoters have assembled 50 slot machines in a warehouse, all set for distribution if the ordinance goes through.

GIFT TO STANFORD

PALO ALTO, Cal. — Stanford University recently received a gift of $2177—the life savings of a 74-year-old Austrian immigrant woman. The gift was willed to Stanford by the late Susan Kohl Nagengast who, before her death in 1944, worked for more than 16 years as a baker at a woman's dormitory on the University's campus.

In Costa Rica, voting in elections is compulsory for all men under 70 years old.

CASTLEWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Young arrived home, Friday evening, from a visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Mayberry, of Maryland. Mrs. Mayberry and son, Jonathon, accompanied them home to Castlewood.

Miss Charlotte Young arrived home Friday evening, from Taylor University Bible school, in Indiana. She rode home with Rev. and Mrs. William Blume, of Warren, Pa., also in the car were her fellow students, Betty Flemming, of Pittsburgh, and Claudia Groth of Oregon, who spent the night in the Young home.

Evangelistic meetings held in the Christian Missionary Alliance church, of Castlewood, have drawn to a close. Special music for the meetings have been provided for by Bobby Kratt, Charles Stentuka, and Mrs. Alice Hogue, who directed several numbers sung by the young people of the church.

Castlewood Firemen and their families enjoyed a tureen dinner, Friday evening, at East New Castle Fire Hall.

The True Seekers Bible class met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tillia, Friday, for their regular monthly meeting. Following the devotional period, Santa appeared in the person of Mr. Tillia and distributed the gifts. Mrs. Tillia then served a lovely lunch, assisted by Mrs. John Henderson and Mrs. Everett Young.

Junior 'Cops' Big Aid In Crime Fight

Junior Police Force Aids In Cutting Crime 97 Per Cent In Illinois City

MATTOON, Ill.—(INS)—One of the most effective instruments for dealing with juvenile delinquency is the healthy enthusiasm of the younger generation itself.

That is the conclusion of Mattoon, Ill. citizens after the city's "Junior Police Force" helped to reduce juvenile arrests 97 per cent in a single year.

Mattoon's police chief started the junior police force program late in 1946. All youth who apply, age 10 to 16 years, are deputized junior police and must promise to follow five rules:

(1) Be clean, friendly and courteous. (2) Respect the right and property of others. (3) Cooperate with parents and teachers. (4) Go to church regularly. (5) Be home by 10 p. m., unless accompanied by parents.

The junior police are given badges, patterned after the regular police force stars, and are told to "get the cop out of the bossy man class and make him a pal." The idea clicked fast and still is going strong. More than 400 youngsters volunteered the first week, and almost without exception have lived up to their promises. In addition they have been busily "converting" their pals to the five-point program.

FRESH AIR IS IMPORTANT

NEED OF THE DAIRY COW

Fresh air is as indispensable in the life of the dairy cow as her hay or grain. The cow must draw into her lungs about 120 cubic feet of air per hour.

The cow gives off heat as a by-product of her living. First, the body processes generate about 6,000 calories a day, and secondly digestion of the large amount of feed she eats produces about 14,000 calories, or a total of about 20,000 calories a day. Proper ventilation will help to remove excess heat from the stable, make the cow comfortable, and permit her to go on eating and drinking to produce the milk for which she is kept.

The stable temperature must be kept above the critical point but below that which would affect the production and appetite. The temperature now considered best is between 45 and 55 degrees Fahrenheit.

Chilling, especially of the udder, lowers the cow's resistance to bacterial growth in the udder and may bring on an attack of mastitis. This chilling may be caused by too low a temperature; a sudden drop in temperature, drafts, especially on the udder; and lying on a cold, wet floor.

The ventilation system, therefore, should be planned to keep the dairy stable at a uniform temperature within the range of 45 to 55 degrees as far as is practical, to keep the stable floor very near this temperature, to keep the stable floor dry by holding the humidity below 75 per cent, and to bring in the fresh air in such a way that no cow is exposed to a draft or colders air.

Because of seasonal differences in outside temperatures, there is need of a variable flow of air by fans in such proportions and with sufficient controls to meet all conditions. Adequate and practical insulation of the stable is a part of the ventilation plan.

ONLY GOOD SAWLOGS MAKE QUALITY LUMBER

Quality lumber is cut out of good sawlogs. Ordinarily it is lumber with few or no knots, little or no rot, and few shakes or other defects.

Because of characteristics of growth of a tree the best lumber is always found on the outside—near the bark. As a tree grows from a sapling into a timber tree it sheds its lower limbs first, beginning near the base and then farther and farther up the trunk as it grows older.

As the limbs drop off, the tree begins to produce quality lumber. It puts on layers of wood in which no limbs are present to cause knots. As the tree becomes larger with age, these layers of clear wood become thicker and thicker. The butt log always has more high-quality lumber in it than a log taken higher up the tree.

Air Force Strength Is Lower Abroad

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. — The Air Force today estimated it had 129,300 men overseas on Dec. 1. This was a drop of about 1500 from the previous month. Air Force officials said it was almost entirely due to the expiration of enlistments.

They pointed out that a large number of three-year enlistments, made soon after V-J Day, were running out and that many of these men were overseas.

There were 280 airmen in the United States on Dec. 1, thus bringing the total strength of the Air Force to 409,300.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

"DOGS AND BARKS"

We have often heard it said that the dog is man's best friend. Anyhow there are many people who are fond of dogs.

There are two things which are almost inseparable from the dog. One is the flea and the other is the bark.

On the farm the bark is used to some advantage. A barking dog is a good burglar alarm sometimes. A city dog is a different proposition. City dwellers do not seem to enjoy barks very much. A dog owner may not complain much if his own dog barks some. The neighbors do not seem to be overjoyed.

It might be well for dog owners to consider the problem. Perhaps some on will invent a muffler.

JUNIOR GOT TANTRUMS

THEN

THEY GOT ADEQUATE WIRING

"They couldn't really blame their youngster. How could they expect him to understand that he had to stop playing with his brand new train because he was using the only remaining socket and they needed a light.

They themselves had been fed up for years with their poor wiring. They were tired of putting up with their collection of dust-collecting extension cord entanglements, with having to crawl under beds and couches to pull out one plug so they could connect another. They were sick of having so few outlets everywhere that in not a single room could they arrange their furniture the way they wanted it. But it wasn't until Junior had that fit that they decided they'd get Adequate Wiring.

"It's one of the best moves we ever made," they say. "Now we have all the outlets we need, where we need them—and Adequate Wiring's brought us countless other comforts and benefits, too."

International Draft Triangle Ends For Youth

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—After being kicked around like an international football since 1942 Johnny Petraglia doesn't mind a bit being drafted into Uncle Sam's army.

At least, Johnny has the feeling now that he belongs to someone. Johnny was born in Pittsburgh 34 years ago, an American citizen of course. His troubles began in 1942 after he had returned to Italy for a short stay with his family.

Johnny's father, who had been drafted while fighting with the United States forces in Europe during World War I, was advised to go to a warmer climate, and he decided to visit his native Salerno. Before the family could return they were caught up in the war, and the Italian army eyed Johnny's 6-foot-3 inch frame and thought he looked like soldier material.

Johnny protested that he was an American citizen and the Italians decided they didn't want him after all. He arrived in Salerno the same day the American troops were landing.

Johnny presented himself to American officials at Naples, and at first they were going to draft him, but the American military government decided they could make better use of him as an interpreter.

The AMG heard he had served with the Italian army and said "sorry, no can use". But Johnny finally convinced them and he went with the AMG, following the fighting up into Austria.

When the war ended he returned to Salerno and the Petraglia family once more began making plans to return to America. The rest of the family made the trip back in 1947 all right, but officials wouldn't let Johnny accompany them. They were still insisting he was an Italian vet and couldn't re-enter the United States except on quota.

He finally got a temporary visa in February of this year and returned to Pittsburgh and filed for citizenship papers immediately. Johnny is now eligible for the peacetime draft—in fact, he's been called to take his physical and notified that he passed—and he expects to be called up some time this month.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEHL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21.—Off the celluloid cuff—Some people think it is more fun to drink the stuff, but Lucille Ball washes her hair twice a week in wine... Errol Flynn, who gets around off and on the screen, has kissed Alexis Smith 25 times in the five movies they have made together. Censors deleted three other smooches... Lassie, the canine star, would be putting like some human stars if he knew how a blue tick hound dog has been stealing all the scenes from him in "The Stratton Story." (Lassie, actually a boy-dog, always portrays a gal-dog in pictures)...

Mel Keeps Busy

Mel Blanc, whose voice is famous to every movie fan in the world, appears on the screen for the first time in M-G-M's "Neptune's Daughter." You know his voice if you ever have seen "Bugs Bunny," "Porky Pig," "Daffy Duck" and other cartoon comedies. He's also Jack Benny's parrot on the radio.

Raymond Massey is lining up a play to direct on Broadway next fall. Quote of the week: Ava Gardner—"I'm tired of living alone. I want to get married. He must be between 35 and 40, not necessarily handsome, and he must like children because I want a big family. And he must not be an actor!" Dan Dailey, who has turned down two South American and Broadway offers for personal appearances this month, has signed for an appearance at London's paladium for January, 1950—at $10,000-per-week.

Hot Rain Now

One of the slickest technical tricks evolved for pictures in years was the use of hot rain recently by company filming RKO's "Blood On The Moon" on a snow-covered Arizona location.

Rain was supposed to fall into slushy snow around Bob Mitchell, Barbara Bel Geddes, Bob Preston and Walter Brennan. But Director Robert Wise thought he was licked because the weather was so cold the snow wouldn't "slush." The misty rain froze in the air. Special-effects men built fires, heated the water until it steamed and power-pumped it into fire hoses. They sprayed the steam high into the ozone above the film folks—and it descended considerably cooled but still liquid.

Wants Education
Brennan, incidentally, portrays an Indian squaw in "Blood On The Moon"—Ann Blythe, now 20, who never attended regular school, is going to enroll in UCLA next semester and try for a college diploma.

January 10 To Be Turning Point In Life Of Young Boy

Fourteen-Year-Old Melvin Goff,
"Blue Baby" To Undergo Operation

HEART LAKE, Pa., Dec. 21.—(INS)—January 10, 1949, will be the big day—the turning point—in the life of 14-year-old Melvin Goff.

After that date Melvin will know whether he can play baseball and go fishing like his nine brothers and sisters—instead of watching his life slip by through a curtained window.

Melvin, doctors said, was a "blue baby" and has a congenital heart condition since the day he was born. January 10 is the date of his operation to cure the malfunction.

For all his 14 years Melvin has been sitting by the window watching other youngsters romp and have the good times he should have had. He dreamed his dreams and kept hoping.

Rests With Doctors
Whether his dreams will come true, Melvin knows, rests in the skilled hands of one of the country's leading heart surgeons, Dr. Helen B. Tausig, who has offered to perform the operation.

And after the operation Melvin will live in some strange place they call Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, where his friends have told him he could get the warm, understanding and scientific care boys of his age and sickness need. Melvin's future seems assured all because of his friend, Mary Borthwick, a state nurse.

Miss Borthwick spread the word about Melvin and soon not only Dr. Tausig offered help but Melvin's neighbors took him to their hearts. Hospital costs of $1,000 were raised through Sunday schools, Boy and Girl Scout drives and businessmen's contributions.

And Melvin won't be alone when he goes for the operation. His mother will fly down with him and will be there when it's all over, because a local business group is paying the plane fare for them both.

Empty Liquor In Sanitary Sewer

It is a good thing that Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna emptied a large quantity of confiscated booze into a sanitary sewer, instead of a storm sewer, Monday afternoon, otherwise the Neshannock creek would have swarmed with intoxicated members of the piscatorial family. No doubt fish which undoubtedly would have imbibed of the liquor would have turned flip-flops, swam staggeringly and bit at imaginary objects. By disposing of the booze through a sanitary sewer the chief prevented piscatorial antics.

State Highway Starts New Plan

Recognition Given To Veteran And Retired Employees Of Department

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The state highways department has accorded recognition to veteran and retired employees and as a result the morale of the working staff has been given a boost. The department presented to each worker or retired employee with more than 25 years service a small lapel pin bearing the commonwealth crest in blue and gold. More than 80 veterans were on hand for the ceremony at dinner presided over by Secretary Ray H. Smock. Chief Engineer E. L. Schmidt and Assistant Chief Engineer C. H. Buckius, an old timer even among veterans, has a knowledge of highway construction unequalled by few others in Pennsylvania. It is possible that other departments on Capitol Hill will follow suit since each depends, with little realization, on the knowledge and loyalty of veteran workers who carry the burden of work in administration after administration. The spirit in the highways department is directly opposed to that of exactly four years ago when the then secretary, John U. Shroyer, summarily retired many old workers and ordered personnel shifts which sent morale to what was said to have been the lowest ebb in the department's history.

There is some agitation among retired state employees for some upward adjustment to compensate for the increased cost of living since they left state employment. Their main contention is that they paid "hundred per cent dollars" into the retirement fund but inflation has reduced the net value to them in their pension checks. The retired workers, however, lack an organization to push pleas for some pension increase.

The resignation of State Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews from Gov. James H. Duff's cabinet presents the chief executive with the task of filling three cabinet posts in the near future. Matthews, emphatically denying the action was caused by political disagreement with Duff, will clear his desk January 1. In addition to filling the $10,000-a-year commerce post, Duff must appoint someone as revenue secretary as the result of the resignation of David W. Harris last March. The third appointment will come up in May when Welfare Secretary Charles R. Barber will resign to become state treasurer. Meanwhile, Deputy Commerce Secretary Raymond H. Smith is expected to assume charge of the department until Duff acts. Otto F. Messner has been acting secretary of revenue since Harris quit due to a split with Duff over administration policies.

The state highways department, drumming heavily for a two-cent a gallon increase in gasoline taxes next year to provide needed funds for road improvements, has produced a movie to aid in furthering its case. Entitled "Construction Ahead", the film is a sound movie in color depicting "every phase of state highway construction". It will be made available for display before public and private organizations about January 1. The film was produced by the department jointly with Pennsylvania State college and covers completely modern highway construction methods. Scenes range from spectacular shots of construction crews gouging and dynamiting road cuts to the pouring and finishing of cement highways. When films are available, state highway district officers will supply the movie, operator and projector upon request.

GLENN SHAFFER NOW AUCTIONEER

Glenn Shaffer, R. D. 6, Hoover Road, Shenango Township, has just arrived home from Decatur, Indiana, where he was graduated from the Reppert School of Auctioneering, where 111 students from 33 states were in attendance at the winter term of the school.

The John and Mabel Ringling Memorial Museum of Art at Sarasota, Fla., was established by the late John Ringling. The museum and its art collection are valued at between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000. LONELY LADY

"I am a widow and get so lonely sometimes I could sit and cry. My only son was killed in the war. I am in my late forties, am easy to get along with, and sincerely wish I could meet a companion. Would you put a few words of advice in the paper, omitting my name?"

Answer: You are probably one of the many middle-aged men and women who are lonely for companionship. There are comforting words, but alas, words only which can be given to you.

The only advice I can give you is to become a "joiner"—join a church if you have not already any religious affiliation—taking part in all of its social activities and striving for a post on the various committees connected therewith. Join all clubs in which you may obtain membership. Learn to play bridge and join a bridge group or club.

If you are not already employed, I suggest that you get a position at least part-time—to give you something to do—as well as to make new contacts.

Accept every invitation offered to you in order to "get around" as much as possible.

You may write to me any time you are lonely or that you need any advice.

Question: My son is to be married at a morning church wedding. The bride says that he should wear a tuxedo and I say that he should wear a dark suit and white shirt. Please print your answer.

Answer: If the wedding will be formal—the bride in bridal veil and gown, he should wear formal daytime clothes—cutaway coat, striped trousers, etc. If it will be informal, he should wear a dark business suit and white shirt. He should not wear a tuxedo under any circumstances.

Premier Stalin Is 69 Years Old Today

LONDON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Yugoslavia joined the obedient states of the Moscow-ruled cominform today in wishing Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin a happy 69th birthday.

The generalissimo, born Dec. 21, 1879, in the little town of Gori, in the Georgia province, was believed planning a quiet celebration of the day.

Moscow radio briefly noted the birthday in its "radio calendar." But there was little sign of excitement or mass celebration in Moscow.

Chiefs of the Soviet states, heads of numerous workers organizations, and public officials throughout Russia sent congratulatory messages to the Kremlin.

Correspondents Are Shown Atomic Pile Of France

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(Special General Manager I. N. S.)
PARIS, Dec. 21.—France showed representatives of the world's press the newest and potentially most treasured possession—the atomic pile at Fort De Châtillon.

France's pro-Communist atomic scientist, Dr. Pierre Joliot-Curie, declared at the official "unveiling" that France has not given the secrets of its atomic pile to any other power.

He said the French government's policy regarding secrecy is not yet definitely decided.

Joliot-Curie's chief assistant, Leo Kowarski, at the same time stated: "This has nothing to do with manufacturing the atomic bomb. It is true this would be the first step in the direction of bombs, but because a couple has children it doesn't mean they are going to make soldiers out of them."

This correspondent was one of a limited group of French and foreign correspondents who inspected the nuclear furnace which has started generating energy and may restore the glory and grandeur of France in the atomic age.

Correspondents Gaze
Inside a red-brick research laboratory nestled amid earthwork battlements of the old fort on the outskirts of Paris, correspondents gazed at the 16-foot high concrete structure within which in the making was the mightiest force yet discovered by man.

Dr. Joliot-Curie and his associates explained some but not all of the workings of this modern Pandora's box from which may emerge a literally magic power to create a paradise on earth for mankind or destroy civilization.

With neutrons bouncing around at the rate of 40 thousand per minute on two tiny circular cathodes ray oscillograph screens in front of the structure the whole scene bore a striking resemblance to a fantastic caricature.

Flashlight bulbs went on and off constantly, while unseen engines hummed and white-uniformed technicians busied themselves by sticking thin wooden poles into small apertures to contact the pile.

Radioactive Waves Emitted
Deadly radioactive waves were being emitted, generating between one and five kilowatts of power.

From this accord of nuclear force, Joliot-Curie and his aides hope to create an oak of energy which will re-establish France as a great power politically, militarily and industrially.

The building in which the pile is housed resembles the interior of a big barn, with a concrete floor 80 by 50 feet. In the center stands a concrete structure on the top of which is a small railing.

What is known as the "pile" inside the structure is an aluminum tank about six feet square containing heavy water. Chemical rods containing oxide of uranium are dropped into this tank, causing combustion of radioactive neutrons—at least that is what the correspondents were told.

Bert A. Goldschmidt, who worked on the U. S. Manhattan project, predicted the present pile would produce isotopes for medical purposes within three or four months.

Third U. P. Pupils Will Offer Program

Union High Boys Make Gift To Margaret Henry Home

"It is more blessed to give than to receive, is the thought of the Vocational 'Ag' boys of Union high this Christmas season as they gathered together products of their past summer's toil to present them to the Margaret Henry Home. Shown above are four of the Vocational 'Ag' boys telling their instructor and their principal of the variety of foodstuffs they had brought in. The Vocational 'Ag' class collected apples, cabbage, potatoes, carrots, turnips, canned goods, flowers and one boy who specializes in raising bees, gave about 20 pounds of honey. Above, left to right, are: Edward Clark, William Barber, J. Arthur Turek, Moreland Thompson, John Young and Victor Lenovich.

Railroad Workers' Children Enjoy Christmas Party

Due to the small amount of snow, Santa Claus arrived at the Pennsylvania Railroad's annual children's party Sunday in a fast express locomotive on a track specially built from the North Pole. Superintendent Marion Street and more than 250 guests were on hand to welcome the bewildered Santa to the enginehouse for the annual Christmas party sponsored by the engine house employees for the children of all Pennsylvania railroad workers.

Each of the youngsters was presented with a bag containing fresh fruit, candy, balloons and chewing gum. Thirty additional prizes were given to the lucky children who won in the interesting game which was part of the afternoon's entertainment.

The committee that provided a beautiful Christmas tree and was responsible for making the party a delightful success were as follows: Helen Robinson, Peggy English, Marie Andrusky, Mary Inotata, Anna H. Johnson, Sylvester Izzo, Patsy Manaco, Bill Miller, Sam Rozzi, Pat McDowell, A. J. Conti and J. F. Grimm.

Chevrolet Employees Feted At Yule Party

Delightful was the Yule party, given employees by the Chevrolet Keystone Company's management December 18, in the place of business, West Washington street.

After a turkey dinner was enjoyed, James Kerr presented Zeno J. Pfau, general manager and vice-president with a gift in behalf of the employees. Each employee was the recipient of his yearly bonus and a remembrance from Mr. Pfau. Music was furnished by an orchestra, composed of Paul Duff, Albert Jinks, Lester Plotts and Peter Tellex, employees. Games were diversions, and moving pictures were taken by Gerald Tanner. Ralph Pence and John Conner were responsible for entertainment.

Daniel Treloar, city; E. D. Hopper and A. Campana, both of Youngstown, were special guests at the company's annual gathering.

HONG KONG, Dec. 21.—(INS)—At least 31 persons were killed today when a huge four-engine Skyraider plane of the Chinese National Aviation Corporation crashed near Hong Kong while enroute from Shanghai.

A report from Shanghai said that Quentin Roosevelt, vice-president of the CNAC, was believed to have been aboard the plane when it left Shanghai.

The big craft went down in flames on Basalt Island, 40 miles northeast of Hong Kong. Piloted by an American, Capt. Charles Sumby, the plane carried a crew of six and a reported 26 passengers, possibly including some foreigners.

An official report said "there is no evidence of survivors." Thirty-one bodies have been recovered and one or more may be buried in the wreckage.

Another Girl's Life Threatened In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Police revealed today that the life of a 12-year-old schoolmate of Carole Lee Kensing has been threatened by a man who claimed to have slain Carole Lee.

The man telephoned Gail Banks at her Bruston district home last Thursday, police said, and told her: "I'm the fellow who killed Carole, your girl friend, and you are going to be next."

The junior high school student later received a threatening letter, which police said was mailed by the same man.

Green Pea Crop Highest In State

Production Of Tomatoes For Canning This Year Showed Decline From '47 Figures

HARRISBURG—For the second time in four years Pennsylvania farmers have led the way for those of other states in the average amount of green peas grown on an acre of ground.

The state department of agriculture, from Federal-state surveys on production of vegetables for freezing and canning, announces the average yield per acre for shelled green peas this year was 2,710 pounds, highest in the Nation. The state held the same distinction in 1945. Total production in 1948 was 15,850 tons from 11,700 acres compared with 1947 production of 16,890 tons from 15,300 acres.

Pennsylvania production of tomatoes for canning this year showed a decline from 1947, but more sweet corn and green lima beans were grown.

Canning tomatoes were hit hard when blight became bothersome in mid-summer. The acreage was 22,500 or a drop of 5,400 from 1947. The yield per acre was more than a ton under last year, 5.8 compared with 6.9 tons. Total production was 130,500 tons for canning whereas in 1947 the crop mounted to 192,500 tons.

Production of sweet corn for canning, freezing and drying totaled 26,400 tons compared with 23,200 in 1947 and the average of 24,880. The acreage was 11,500 or 100 less than last year and yield per acre was 2.3 tons against 2 tons in 1947 and two tons average.

Sherlock Holmes Devotees In Tokyo

TOKYO.—(INS)—The shadow of Sherlock Holmes now stalks the dimly-lit alleyways of Tokyo instead of his more familiar Limehouse haunts.

The Baker Street Irregulars see to that.

It's all as fictitious as Sherlock himself—except in the minds of the self-styled Irregulars.

A mixed group of 12 Americans, Australians and Japanese have founded the Baritsu chapter of the Irregulars, which has chapters in major American cities.

The Irregulars assume that Sherlock Holmes is a real living person and allow their fancy to act accordingly. They put down the result of their flights of imagination into detective prowess on paper and discuss it when they meet.

The chapter's name, Baritsu, was taken from The Return of Sherlock Holmes. Sherlock's creator, author Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, described "Baritsu" as a Japanese word. Actually, the word—once again like Holmes—does not exist.

Blind Mayor Is Ace At Camera

THE DALLAS, Ore.—(INS)—Howard Dent, blind for most of his 36 years, is the mayor of this city of 7,000 people and the vice president of a navigation company, too.

Perhaps even more amazing—this sightless man is a top photographer with 15 years' experience. Dent, who has never seen one of his own topnotch compositions, uses his secretary's eyes. He knows what he wants caught by the lens of his speed-graphic, and then arranges the composition and lighting through the eyes of his secretary.

The girl is invariably pleasantly surprised at the results. She says: "All I know about photography is how to snap the shutter on a box camera."

Court House

Salary Raises Seem Probable

Salary Board Discusses Type Of Increases Which May Be Given Employees

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Some salary increases for appointed employees of the court house offices seems probable.

At a meeting of the salary board Monday morning, the matter was discussed fully and while no decision was reached it seemed likely some raises will be granted. The employees themselves are asking for a blanket raise for everybody. The commissioners considered a percentage raise and also a set amount of increase for each employee.

Commissioner Joseph F. Travers questioned a raise for the employees when he said "I think they have had their Santa Claus. It is well enough for you department heads to agree to raises for the employees but as county commissioners it is our job to raise the money."

"We have already put about $40,000 into retirement funds for the employees and their retirement is different from any I have seen. Instead of an employee who leaves the service getting his premiums back, plus interest, this plan gives such an employee all of the money he has contributed plus all the county has contributed."

"It seems to me they should choose either between the retirement plan as it is or a raise."

Other members of the salary board disagreed with Mr. Travers' position in the matter. Some decision will probably be reached within a week.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

FAMILY COMPROMISE

Children usually like to make bargains. That fact coupled with the idea that nagging isn't a very good thing suggests a way of handling some everyday problems in the family.

Suppose, for instance, that a youngster is told, "Okeke, Don, maybe I do bother you about keeping your hands clean all the time. Let's leave it this way. You get yourself clean for meals and before going to bed and I won't say anything at other times."

Such an agreement may not be kept 100 per cent of the time but there's a good chance that it will work satisfactorily and one will avoid the unpleasantness that comes from "keeping after" our children.

There are many such "bargains" or compromises possible. Here's another example. An eight or nine year-old finds it hard to keep quiet around the house all the time. But he can do a pretty good job of "putting on the soft pedal" while a young brother or sister is napping if he knows he's not going to be "shushed" all the rest of the time.

Family compromises are worth thinking about. Look over your own situation and see whether there aren't a number of ideas like the above that you can work out. (Copyright, 1948, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Pardon Is Given Pittsburgh Man

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—William H. Dern today had only 24 hours of waiting until he could rejoin his family for what should be their biggest Christmas.

The 48-year-old Pittsburgh carpenter will be released from prison in Ohio Wednesday, following a pardon from Governor Thomas J. Herbert.

Back in 1923 Dern was convicted and sentenced to serve one-to-seven years in an Ohio prison on a charge of stealing $50 worth of scrap brass. He escaped, came to Pittsburgh in 1925 and married a widow with four children. He was a fugitive for 25 years before police arrested him in Pittsburgh last year. Dern voluntarily returned to Ohio last week.

The area of the District of Columbia, the seat of the U. S. federal government, was originally 100 square miles, taken from the sovereignty of Maryland and Virginia. Virginia's portion south from the Potomac was ceded back to that state in 1846.

National Income Hits New High

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The Commerce department said today that the dollar volume of national income which includes corporation profits and employee wages still smash all previous records this year.

The department, basing the prediction on current data, said the figure will be around 224 billion dollars at the end of the year. National income is all income accruing from current production and also includes rental income and net interest.

The department's business economics office reported that national income rose to a record annual rate of $227,300,000,000 during the third quarter—a rise of $5,600,000,000 above the preceding three months.

A New York harbor police launch came upon three migrating brown rats, undoubtedly from New Jersey, in the middle of the Hudson river. In one hour and 25 minutes, swimming against the current and wind, they reached Manhattan, according to the police.

Huge Gorilla Goes On Diet

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The largest gorilla in captivity went on a diet today in Chicago.

Bushman, Lincoln Park Zoo's prize attraction for 3,250,000 annual visitors, will not be allowed to become any larger. R. Marlin Perkins, zoo director, said Bushman, who now tips the scale at 550 pounds, will be kept at that weight because any more fat would be unhealthy. He still will be fed his daily three quarts of milk, along with 22 pounds of fresh fruit and vegetables and whole wheat raisin bread.

But no more cream in the milk.

About one-third of the persons who die of cancer might have been cured if adequate treatment had been started in time, according to the American Cancer society.

Russians Question Natives Of Alaska

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—A charge of Soviet spying was leveled today to underscore Alaska as a major issue in the next session of Congress.

A House Labor subcommittee headed by Rep. Kersten (R) Wis., asserted that espionage "in some form" was found in the northern territory. A report to the full committee declared that a group of Alaskan Indians were taken captive by the Russians and questioned as to possible "resistance" leaders that might arise should the Russians attack.

G. Wadlinger in whose capable hands the details of the testimonial dinner rested.

Father Mooney Speaks
Opening the program Mr. Maher expressed his appreciation of having a part of the testimonial dinner work, and then introduced the Very Rev. Vincent Patrick Mooney, director of the youth activities in the Columbus diocese.

"This occasion tonight brings back fond memories," said Fr. Mooney. "In 1944 as a chaplain with the ninth armored force I visited New Castle-on-Tyne, England, and attended St. Mary's church there. It was there my father and mother took out their license to wed."

"Another memory is of a group who gathered at St. Vincent's 40 years ago and tonight we meet here at this happy occasion."

"This dinner tonight is more than an expression of your esteem for your pastor. It is an evidence of your willingness to cooperate with him. You have evidenced a spirit of cooperation in Catholic action."

Fr. Mooney told of the continuing work of the various Popes who have worked for world peace, warned of the dangers of secularism and in this respect said more harm is done by the inactivity of Christians than the feverish activities of the enemies of Christianity. He urged his audience to continue their fight against un-American activities that America might remain a sanctuary.

Lynch Presents Check
Mr. Maher then introduced Edward A. Lynch. Mr. Lynch recalled the active work of Rev. McCarter here, how he had rid the church of its debt and spoke of the affection of his parishioners for him. He then presented Rev. McCarter with a check for $30,000 and said, "this is to be used as you see fit in the work of the church."

In responding, Rev. McCarter expressed his gratitude for the magnificent gift and recalled other days when he had worked to raise the indebtedness of Holy Cross church in the Pittsburgh district. "As deeply as I appreciate this gift, there is one thing more I want from each of you and that is yourself," said he.

Closing Speaker
Bishop Ready was the closing speaker. Said he: "The anniversary program prepared for this joyous occasion sums up in a few words the sentiments of the parishioners of St. Mary's towards Fr. McCarter. It speaks of appreciation first of all."

"The good people of St. Mary's are glad to have opportunity to express their gratitude to a devoted unselfish zealous priest. It notes the esteem in which St. Mary's people hold their pastor. They estimate highly his fine priestly qualities, his spirit of consecration to the service of Christ and His Church and his own personal qualities of prayerfulness and piety."

"Finally, St. Mary's offers its continued loyalty to his progressive leadership and his pastoral devotion. This community knows Fr. McCarter as a priest interested in the welfare of all its citizens and is an efficient administrator of a large parish. But the loyalty which you pledge tonight is to a good shepherd, a faithful priest and to a man of God."

Excellent Music
Music featured the program. The Elks' quartet sang two groups of songs and sang them well. Anthony Caspero was heard in a violin solo which was a delight. The Episcopal blessing was bestowed upon the crowd by Rev. Thomas Bernard Lappan, also a classmate of Rev. McCarter's.

It was an evening that should shine in letters of gold in the book of memory for Rev. McCarter. It was a public expression of faith and admiration that honored those who participated in the honoring of their pastor.

Today closes the three-day celebration. At 8 o'clock the children of the parish attended a mass in St. Mary's and after the mass went to the Catholic center where a Christmas party was given them, signaling the opening of their Christmas vacation.

President To Get Hoffman's Report On China Visit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—(INS)—President Truman gets first-hand report on conditions in China today when he receives a report on conditions in China, fighting for its life against communism.

The economic cooperation administrator, just returned from a 16-day flying trip to the far east, was slated to see Mr. Truman today at the White House.

Hoffman said he will convey his views on economic conditions in China and also report on conferences with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in Nanking and Gen. MacArthur in Tokyo.

The White House meeting may also deal with official United States charges that three Marshall plan countries are re-selling recovery metals to American business at "high prices."

Guam Suspect Is Held In Jail

GUAM, Dec. 21.—(INS)—A suspect in the rape-murder of beautiful Ruth Farnsworth was fined $50 today for vagrancy and was returned to the Guam jail because of inability to pay the amount.

Officials did not make it clear whether the man, Terriel Mesheu of San Antonio, Tex., still was under suspicion in connection with the slaying of the 27-year-old San Francisco woman.

Miss Farnsworth, a civilian employee of the Navy, died December 13 from the effects of a savage beating and criminal assault.

Mesheu was picked up for questioning last Saturday night after authorities said they found a blood-stained pair of trousers and a lipstick-smudged towel in his locker.

Inspectors Forbid
Changing Of Rules

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The board of prison inspectors doesn't want anyone changing the rules for prison guards without its approval. Not even if the "anyone" is the warden of the Allegheny county jail.

Board members made that clear to Warden Charles L. Dye at the monthly meeting in Pittsburgh.

Dye didn't think his guards at the county jail should run around with men convicted of felonies. So he added three words—"or former inmates"—to rule 8, which then read:

"Guards shall refrain from any familiarities or intimacy with inmates (or former inmates) either inside or outside the prison and any other activities or demeanor subversive to prison discipline."

One board member said the three words were "unnecessary curtailment of the rights and liberties of the guards and a serious deprivation of the rights of American citizens."

Warden Dye claimed he just "didn't think guards should run around with former inmates." The board finally voted three to two in favor of striking out the offending words.

Seek To Hold Down Holiday Accident Toll

'Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday' Is Slogan of Safety Council

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—"Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday!" That slogan will keynote the National Safety Council's nation-wide campaign to hold down the huge Christmas-New Year's accident toll. Each year accidents cast a shadow on the holiday celebration of thousands of families throughout the nation, according to Council figures which show the year-end holiday season to be the most dangerous period in the year.

Joining forces with the council in a united effort to call public attention to the extra holiday hazards and the extra caution needed to overcome them are city and state officials, civic groups, local safety councils, and 130 national organizations.

The council said that heavier travel and the festive spirit of the holiday season add to the normal winter hazards, such as bad weather, slippery roads and more hours of darkness. Traffic accident deaths on both Christmas and New Year's day total more than two or three times the annual daily average.

Turned To Tragedy

"Every family in the country looks forward to Christmas as the time for joy and celebration, and that is what the holiday period should be," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council.

"But every year thousands of families see Christmas joy turned into suffering and tragedy because of unnecessary and preventable accidents."

"To keep death from taking your holiday costs nothing, takes no time and requires only a little effort—refusing to take the drink you can't handle, yielding the right-of-way, waiting for the light to change, discarding a string of Christmas tree lights with worn insulation."

"These are little things—but they pay off big in happiness. They will keep the lights burning in your home, keep the holly wreath on your door, and preserve for you and yours the delight that is America at Christmas."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

At the Merchandise Mart in Chicago they tell a story about the section of Heaven reserved exclusively for salesmen. The successful ones are gathered in Anteroom A; the failures in Anteroom B. The failures sit down to dinner at eight. Waiters appear with delicacies of every kind, but preceding them, a monitor straps a long iron spoon to each diner's arm, rendering it completely rigid, and preventing him from eating. The failures, wan, emaciated, joyless, eye the platters of food silently and do nothing.

In Anteroom A, precisely the same procedure is followed, but the successful salesmen find it no impediment. They simply dip their long spoons into the savory morsels and feed the men seated alongside them. As a result, they are plump, contented and healthy. Rotarians Hear Christmas Music

Senior High A Cappella Choir Delights Club With Christmas Program

New Castle Rotary club had its annual Christmas musical program at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday, when the senior a cappella choir, directed by Miss Helen R. Leslie, presented a program of unusual merit.

The program, which was virtually the same as that given for the students at high school, included two numbers of some length. The first was the choir selection "The Night Before Christmas" with John Staffie and Walter Jenkins taking the solo parts. The other was the selection, "The Song of Christmas". James Rugh was the narrator, and the solo numbers were taken by Beverly Polly, Barbara Drake, Walter Jenkins and James DeGregory. Other features of this selection included a trio number by Walter Jenkins, Bill Boak and John Staffie, and a quartet number by Carol Zeigler, Barbara Drake, Walter Jenkins and John Staffie.

The accompanists were Misses Donna McBride and June Vincent. Miss Leslie, the new director of vocal music at senior high, was congratulated by the club on the splendid program, the present choir living up to the fine reputation which they have enjoyed during the past few years.

Plymouth Plantation Will Be Re-Created

Group Of Plymouth, Massachusetts Financiers Plan Replicas Of Original Village

PLYMOUTH, Mass. — (INS)—"Plymouth Plantation," where Thanksgiving was born, will live again. But it will take time.

The first home of the Pilgrims in Massachusetts, complete with thatched roofs, roughboard, and wooden peg construction, is being re-created near historic Plymouth rock.

The idea for building a replica of the first Pilgrim settlement was conceived by a group of prominent Plymouth residents.

Headed by Henry Hornblower, II, Boston financier, they called themselves "The Plymouth Plantation, Inc.," and set about the project.

The first house has already been built, and architect's plans for the construction of the rest of the settlement, plus an adjacent Indian village, have been drawn up.

The entire project, which is expected to encompass a good many years, is estimated to cost $1,500,000. When completed, it will be an exact replica of the original settlement as shown by historical records.

In addition, it will include an exposition of the crafts practiced by the Pilgrims, an amphitheatre for historical pageants, a village green, and a full scale reproduction of the famous ship Mayflower.

Valley Motor Girls Have Yule Luncheon

Girls of the Valley Motor Freight met for their annual Christmas party in the form of a noon luncheon and bridge on Monday at an inn nearby on the Youngstown road. Covers were laid for 12.

Lawrence county chapter of the Reserve Officers Association met for its Christmas party in the club rooms on the Public Square Saturday evening. Wives were special guests.

As those who attended arrived, each one added decorations to the Christmas tree. Later an exchange of small gifts was carried out.

Cards and dancing to musical records furnished diversion during the enjoyable social evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

Winner of the door prize was John Wilson.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast

Santa Comes To Town, For A Fee, Of Course

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—There'll be no need for daddy to stuff a pillow into a rented red suit this Christmas.

An enterprising new firm will take care of that little chore by supplying professionally-trained Santa Clauses for private parties or clubs. The fee is moderate and half the profits will go to a Cardiac home.

The Santa Clauses are unemployed actors specially trained for the chore. St. Nick in full regalia—but minus the reindeer—will visit any home or club in greater New York at a specified time.

Carols?—Santa Will Sing. If parents desire a singing Santa, the jolly gentleman will oblige with carols. If Junior has begun to doubt the existence of St. Nick, a doughty Santa will return the trusting look to his eye.

And if little Alice has refused to eat her cephalopod lately, Kringle (previously armed with information from her parents) will prove that Santa is omniscient and prefers to deal with children who will polish off their food regularly and with dispatch.

From December 1-19, "a visit from St. Nick" costs the householder $15. From December 20-25 the fee is $25.

The first ring-neck pheasants imported into the United States were brought by an Englishman who married Benjamin Franklin's daughter.

Twenty-Eight New Castle High Plays Homestead Here Tonight

Undefeated Steelers Will Be Tough Foe

New Castle High faces tough, undefeated Homestead here tonight at the Washington High gym.

The preliminary game between the two reserve teams of the schools will start at 7 o'clock. Indications point to a packed gym for the battles.

Coach George Thomas feels that his Red and Black passers are ready for the "big time" meaning Homestead and Duquesne. New Castle will play an undefeated at home record on the table tonight. Homestead coached by the famous "Chick" Davies will present a real problem.

Locals Seek Revenge

If the locals play the kind of basketball they are capable of, Homestead will be in for a bad evening. New Castle would like to get revenge for the pasting handed them at Homestead last year.

Homestead has been running rough-shod over the valley teams in the Pittsburgh district so far. They could run into a stumbling block here.

Basketball fans will see two fine quintets in action this evening. Coach Thomas gave his charges a final checking last evening and pronounced them ready for their biggest test of the season.

Fans Protesting On "Intentional Pass"

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—The game of baseball which for all these years has been held up as the great national pastime has one little irritating touch which should be ruled out promptly and permanently.

This is the intentional pass. This peculiar maneuver whereby a pitcher takes an unfair advantage of a hitter has no place in American sports, but is tolerated as part of the game which supposedly symbolizes America where the offensive is revered.

Wants Money's Worth

The fans who pay their way into the park are deprived of the full value of their ticket.

Players like Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Stan Musial are in accord with my thinking. They do not want to take four wild pitches to get on first base. Instead of being privileged to strike out if the pitcher is that good.

I know too that the pitcher takes orders from the manager, and that only last year Connie Mack issued orders that at no time should his pitchers pitch to Williams or DiMaggio when a hit by either of them might mean scoring a run.

Tennis Umpire To Get Medal

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—An award for umpires, and not a pop bottle either, was the latest wrinkle in lawn tennis today.

The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association announced that a gold medal will be awarded annually to the tennis umpire who has rendered the most efficient service during the year.

The award has been donated, not by fans but by John T. (Terry) McGovern, who was a tennis umpire himself for 25 years.

North And South Squads Training

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21.—(INS)—Herman Hickman and Andy Gustafson, continuing their training for the North and South football teams into cohesive units today as they prepared for their Christmas night test at Miami.

Hickman is counting heavily on All-American Chuck Bednarik of Penn and All-American End Sam Tamburo of Penn State to stop the hard-running South backs playing for his former Army cohort.

Gustafson, who served as Red Blaik's backfield coach at West Point while Hickman was drilling the line, has Navy's Pistol Pete Williams and Georgia Tech's Frank Zeigler to throw at the North eleven—plus Mississippi's Barney Poole, an All-American end.

LONG ISLAND-NYU WIN FLOOR TILTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Basketball invaders from the Big Seven will try their luck against metropolitan quintets in a twin bill at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Oklahoma takes on City College, and St. John's plays Iowa State.

Neither visitor has been overly impressive this season.

The invaders hope for better luck than was the lot of two previously undefeated Dixie teams at the Garden last night.

Long Island University ran away from Georgia Tech, 74 to 60, and New York University came from behind to trounce Georgia, 63 to 72.

WEST VIRGINIA TOPS ARIZONA

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 21.—(INS)—West Virginia scored its 49th straight victory at home last night and its fifth in six games to date by topping a tough Arizona 51-6.

The Mountaineers went ahead to stay in the final two minutes after the lead had changed hands eight times. The score was tied on five occasions.

Mountaineer Center Eddie Beach led the scorers with 21 points.

PLAINGROVE CAGERS SEEK LOCAL GAMES

The Plaingrove cagers have a home floor available and will play on a home and home basis.

Contact with this team can be made by writing W. A. Reese, R. D. No. 3, Slippery Rock or calling Plaingrove 16-C and leave a message.

SPORT SHORTS

"Wrestling can succeed as a major sport in every secondary school and on every college campus if interested boys are given competent coaching, good protective equipment, and an early start."

Billy Sheridan, coach of the defending Eastern Intercollegiate wrestling champions of Lehigh University said today.

For the second time in three years, an end and tackle will serve as co-captains of the Penn State football team. Tackle Negley Norton, of Altoona, and End Bob Hicks, of Lancaster, will lead the team in 1949.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

A GREAT change, and probably one for the better, has taken place in boxing during the past 15 or 20 years, and, as yet, no person, or group of people, have complained about the change. Years ago, it was the habit of promoters of fistiana to hold shows on Thanksgiving night, Christmas afternoon, New Year's Day, the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington, St. Patrick's night, Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Labor Day.

The promoters found out sadly they could not successfully force Turkey dinners into the rear-ground and overcome Santa Claus, the Christmas tree and family gatherings. Because New Year's day and night are largely given over to celebrations, promoters do not fare so badly. Fights on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays have apparently passed out of the picture, but in some sections they yet hold battles on St. Patrick's night. Seldom does one read of a fight being held on Memorial Day, but a few are yet staged on July 4, and some on Labor Day.

Optimists Push All-Star Game

All-Out Effort To Pack Washington High Floor Next Wednesday To See Titans

Members of the New Castle Optimist club are making an all-out effort to pack the Washington High gym next Tuesday to the very rafters for the third annual Westminster Titan and Lawrence County All-Stars floor contest.

There will be two games Tuesday—the East Brook Boosters will play the Ellwood City VFW in the opening game at 7 o'clock. These two teams, members of the city-county floor league will put on a swell ball game.

The razle-dazle Titans undefeated in five straight games, will put on a clever exhibition of ball-handling. Coach Grover Washbaugh will have his full team here for the tussle, big Chet Dembinski, Don "Osark" McCullough, Bruce Wagner, Clyde Shaffer, Jerry Hyder, Big Ed Halas, Jack Jones, Don Mayberry and others.

Strong Lineup

The Lawrence County All-Stars will have in their lineup—Don Watters, Pete Stack, Carl Johnson, Wayne Gray, Jimmy Janacoe, Guy Bennett, Bob Grinnen, Jack Brandes, Herb Colavincenzo, Rags Genock, Chuck Fox, Norb Borowicz, Walt Kursel, Paul Johnson, and others.

There is a possibility that Bill Andrews and Fred Wimer will be home for the game also.

Tickets for the game are $1.00. They can be obtained at the following places: Gus' Men's store, East Washington street; YMCA, Solomon's News Stand in Mahoningtown and Marlins Furniture store on East Long avenue. There are no reserved seats.

Carl O. Salberg is general chairman of the big Charity game. Optimists will use the proceeds to further their boy's work program in the county.

Paul Brown Will Be Given Honor

CLEVELAND, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Coach Paul Brown of the All-America Football Conference champions was to be honored today in Cleveland at a Touchdown Club "appreciation luncheon."

More than 500 Cleveland football fans were expected to attend the luncheon. Guests were to include Brown's rival AAC coaches Ed McKeever of Chicago, Carl Voyles of Brooklyn, Buck Shaw of San Francisco, Jimmy Phelan of Los Angeles, Cecil Isbell of Baltimore, Red Strader of New York and Red Dawson of Buffalo.

Branch Ricey, president of the Brooklyn Racers, and football coach, and scheduled too be guest speaker, reported last night that he would be unable to attend the luncheon.

The heavy snow storm has prevented his leaving New York, he said.

Mike Covelli Evening's High Scorer In Three Good Games On Y Floor

Wampum took the measure of Croton last night in the feature class B church basketball league on the "Y" floor, 41 to 35. Wampum is now undefeated after one round of league play and appeared headed for the first round championship.

Jackson and McMillin netted 21 points for the winners and Snow brothers combined to give Croton 29 markers.

In the other league contest First Methodist defeated Wesley 32 to 21. J. Gibson was high for First Methodist with 15 and Alexander's 9 topped the losers.

In an exhibition contest, American Legion did most of the exhibiting as they trounced First Presbyterian 66 to 43. The Presby quintet trailed by only 29 to 26 at the half, but Legion reserve strength and Mike Covelli's accurate shooting soon put the game away.

Covelli caged 21 points for the Legion five.

DUQUESNE SLAMS NEBRASKA 55-49

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—A Duquesne team that has committed most every error in the book and still has managed to look impressive in winning over Wake Forest and Nebraska moves into the upper brackets tonight against Arizona at the Gardens in Pittsburgh.

Last night the Dukes alternately spurted and loaded their way to an easy 55-49 victory over an inept quintet. The tall Cornhuskers, supposedly a fast break team had "butter fingers" all night and never really threatened seriously.

Connie Mack At 86, Still Has Visions Of Another Pennant

By SAM GAMBURG
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20—Venerable Connie Mack, 86 years young on Thursday, December 23, has but one word of comment concerning reports he will finally retire from baseball:

"Piffle."

Most people reaching Mr. Mack's age are ready long past for the scrap heap, but Connie—well, he's still hoping for that "one last pennant" for his beloved Philadelphia Athletics.

In a birthday interview, Connie's latest denial of retirement was more brusque than usual because the "Old Man"—don't you dare call him that to his face, though—thinks that 1949 is the year for his A's to win the American league crown after a 16-year pennant famine.

Indians Team To Beat

Connie refused to go out on any limb and flatly predict the Mackmen would win the flag and regain the heights achieved by so many A's teams in the past. But he put it this way:

"Cleveland is the team to beat, but that isn't the whole story of the 1949 race."

"Look at those strengthened Yankees, to say nothing of the Boston Red Sox."

Athletics Stronger

Connie was obviously optimistic about his A's, though. The Mackmen, you remember, were the sensation of the American league last season and battled for the pennant until the fading weeks of the race.

Said Connie:

"As far as my club is concerned next year because we strengthened—well, it will be much stronger ourselves at the major league meetings by adding to two departments in which we were weak last season—pinch-hitting and reserves."

"In getting Taft Wright and Wally Moses, we have two men who can be depended upon in the clutch."

Mr. Mack also declared that his ex-star Jimmy Dykes, signed as a coach, will prove an "inspiration" to the 1949 Athletics.

Few More Years

Tall, gaunt Mr. Mack still hopes to spend a few more seasons in the A's dugout, waving his scorecard to direct his players on the field.

Connie appears in fine health despite his advanced years. He is quite active and remains the controlling power behind the A's. And baseball, as it has for most of his life, continues to be his one great love.

And that's easy to understand, for the story of Connie Mack is the story of baseball for some 60 years.

The game's triumphs have been his triumphs, its tribulations, his tribulations and its glamour.

Connie Mack, the one-time shoe cobbler, saw his wildest dreams come true as he joined the ranks of baseball's immortals.

A master of diamond strategy and a keen showman, Connie always loved to win.

But he loved the game more than victory. Twice during his dazzling career he wrecked great baseball machines "for the sake of the game."

Now he's hoping to see his dream of that "one last pennant" come true and for years he's been slowly, but definitely rebuilding his Mackmen to the point where now he feels they are ready.

And when the usually cagey Mr. Mack publicly says he thinks his club is ready, that's the sign for other American league teams to head for the storm shelters. Beware of those '49 A's.

We will be privileged to have as our speaker at our noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, on Wednesday, the Rev. Samuel J. Purvis, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian church, of Youngstown, O.

The speaker, a former member of this club, served as a director, and was a star when Kiwanis sported a baseball team, a delegate to Kiwanis International Convention at Cleveland, 1921 and that's a story.

His subject will be "Christmas Reminiscence."

Yule Party Held For Neighborhood House Children

Rotary Anna Are Hostesses At Christmas Party In The Castleton

Children of the Neighborhood House were entertained at a fine Christmas party in The Castleton Monday evening with a splendid program of entertainment, a Santa Claus with gifts and refreshments.

The children were transported to the scene in a special bus, furnished by the H. L. Shoaff, superintendent of the Shenango Valley Transportation company.

Miss Jean McKissock presented a puppet show which delighted the children and motion pictures, "The Night Before Christmas," were shown by Attorney Joe McFate, after which Santa Claus, in the person of Richard E. Rantz, appeared with his sleigh and dispensed toys and balloons. Refreshments were served, concluding the program.

The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Mrs. Kenneth Vorhees, Mrs. John Panella, Mrs. George Ritter, Mrs. DeLace Cole, Mrs. Sam Mooney, Mrs. W. J. Offutt, and Mrs. Alex Samuels; with the program in charge of Mrs. Marshall Matheny, Mrs. Joe McFate and Mrs. Ross D. Rosenberger.

East Side W.C.T.U.

Members of the East Side W.C.T.U. met in the home of Mrs. Floyd Smock, 833 Lathrop street, for their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Ida Howe, spiritual life director, had charge of the devotion. The devotional reading was the "Christmas Story," followed by prayer by Mrs. Jessie Nolan. The group sang "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," after which Mrs. Howe read the origin of "Silent Night".

The group then sang "Silent Night".

Mrs. Scott Munnel, who was in charge of the program, then took charge of the meeting. A candlelight service was presented by Mrs. Floyd Smock, Mrs. Mattie Badger, Mrs. Harvey Kennedy and Mrs. Jessie Nolan.

A number of interesting articles were read on the subject, "How Big Is $9,640,000,000?" by Mrs. James Gorman, Mrs. M. P. Book, Miss Martha Grace Elder, Mrs. Thornberg and Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Scott Munnel, president, conducted a short business meeting, after which a delicious lunch was served at a table decorated in keeping with the season. Mrs. M. P. Book and Mrs. Scott Munnel assisted the hostess.

The meeting in January is to be with Mrs. Mary Caldwell, of Court street, with Mrs. Helen McGaffie as leader.

ASKS HUGE DAMAGES
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Sixteen motion picture producers and distributors had on their hands today a suit for damages totaling $195,000 and a "reasonable attorney fee" of $100,000.

The suit was filed yesterday in Federal court by Rudolph Navari and Samuel C. Navari, owners of the suburban Eastwood theater, who have charged the movie companies with violations of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and the Clayton act.

The suit alleges conspiracy by the defendants and claims the owners of the Eastwood theater have been relegated to a secondary and inferior position in the exhibition of motion pictures.

Gen. Clay Reports Berlin Airlift Keeps Up Supply

BERLIN, Dec. 21.—(INS)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay announced today that the Berlin airlift is maintaining its steady flow of supplies into blockaded Berlin despite winter weather and fog.

But the American occupation commander conceded that the blockade is increasingly hurting the economy of the city's western sectors.

In his semi-monthly report, Clay said that of 104,725 unemployed, 33,643 are out of work directly because of the Soviet blockade.

Clay's report pointed out that in the face of gloomy prophecies that the U. S. air force could not supply Berlin by air once bad weather set in, the aerial supply bridge continues successfully.

The report said that in the last three weeks, an average of 1,133 tons of vital supplies has been flown into Berlin daily. This compares well with the daily average of 1,176 carried in October, when the weather was good.

SMOKE FILLS HOME

Firemen were summoned to the home of Roger W. Rowland, president of the New Castle Refractories company, at 5:50 p. m. Monday, when smoke seeped into the house when a chimney burned out. There was no fire damage, Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reported.

Notre Dame and Michigan each placed three players on International News Service's all-Midwest College football dream eleven for 1948.
